Wilson, Bush Vote Revised Liquor Bill

Local legislators joined ranks Thursday in Albany voting for Governor Rockefeller's liquor law. Both Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson (R), Ulster County, and State Senator E. Ogden Bush (R), 34th Senatorial District of which Ulster County is a part, voted for the revised bill.

The votes of 12 Democrats helped push the governor's liquor-reform program through to final passage at Thursday's special session of the legislature.

Votes Revised Bill

On the March 26 vote, prior to the calling of the special session of the legislature to consider the matter, Assemblyman Wilson voted against the bill as then proposed. Yesterday he voted for the revised bill.

No vote was taken in the Senate two weeks ago. Yesterday Senator E. Ogden Bush of Delancey voted along with 33 others to pass the bill by a 34 to 23 vote. Voting for the bill yesterday was Senator Ernest I. Hatfield of the 35th Senatorial District of which Dutchess County is a part.

Others Voting 'Yes'

Assemblyman Wilson joined 78 other assemblymen to pass the bill in the Assembly by a vote of 79 to 63. Other area assemblymen who joined in voting for the bill included Assemblyman Clarence Lane of Greene County, Willard C. Drumm of Columbia County and Robert W. Pomeroy of Dutchess County.

Seven assemblymen and five senators threw Democratic support to the measure and made up for negative votes cast by Republican lawmakers, who did not support the governor. Twelve GOP legislators—9 assemblymen and 3 senators—voted "No."

Democratic assemblymen who voted "Yes" were:

Albert H. Blumenthal, Manhattan; Albert J. Hausbeck, Buffalo; Daniel M. Kelly, Manhattan; Ferdinand J. Mondello, Bronx; John T. Satriale, Bronx; Donald J. Sullivan, Bronx; Paul A. Worlock, Rome.

Democratic Senators who voted "Yes" were:

Harry Kraf, Ivan Warner, Abraham Bernstein and Joseph Marine, all of The Bronx; and Manfred Ohrenstein, Manhattan.

Republican assemblymen who voted "No" were:

Don O. Cummings, Wellsville; Dwight N. Dudo, Lowville; Werner M. Ingram, Potsdam; Edwin E. Mason, Stamford; Paul R. Taylor, Penn Yan; Harold I. Tyler, Chittenango; Wilson C. Van Duzer, Middletown; Joseph fred D. Lerner, Queens.

GOP senators who voted "No" were:

William Condon, Westchester; Dutton S. Peterson, Odessa; Henry A. Wise of Watertown.

One senator—G. Eustis Paine of Willsboro — was absent because of illness.

Three assemblymen abstained from voting because of private business interests they said might cause a conflict of interest. They were William Passannante, Louis DeSalvio and Jerome Kretchner, all Manhattan Democrats.

O'Rourke Quits, Police Force Is Eight Short Now

Resignation of Officer Sheldon F. O'Rourke from the local police force, effective as of May 3, was accepted with regret by the Board of Police Commissioners Thursday night.

His leaving the department leaves it eight men short, including Patrolman Joseph Feraca, who is on leave of absence to finish studies at the University of Georgia, and is due to return to the force in June.

O'Rourke has accepted a position with the Rogers Liquor Co. Inc., of Albany as a salesman and will represent it in areas of Ulster and Delaware counties. He is now finishing a police department vacation.

More to Leave

Unverified reports indicate that three or four others are due to leave. One, Patrolman Oscar Gray, has completed part of a state police examination.

The department, at full complement, has a force of 61 men, and now operates with 53.

Patrolmen O'Rourke was appointed to the force on Jan. 1, 1953.

"He was an efficient officer with 11 years of service and we regret that he is leaving," Police Chief Robert F. Murphy said today. "He certainly is a loss to the department." Several letters of commendation for his performance of duty are on file in headquarters.

Served With Marines

A veteran of World War 2, he had served with the U.S. Marine Corps in the South Pacific. He was in the service from January, 1944 to November, 1946. He is a member of American Legion Post 150 and of Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus. Before joining the force he had been employed by the Reliance Marine Transportation and Construction Corp., 615 Abeel Street.

Officer O'Rourke is married to the former Gloria Mayone, and they have five children, four girls, Colleen, 13, Kathleen, 10, Gloria, 3, and Eileen, 2, and a son, Sean, 4. The family lives at 65 Greenkill Avenue.

Three Are Troopers

Seven officers left the department in 1963, and three of them, Robert Houghtaling, John Turck and Richard Dempsey joined the state police.

Goldwater Argues Arms Superiority

STOCKTON, Calif (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater charges the Johnson administration has "recklessly underestimated" the Communists and allowed the U.S. missile lead to falter.

The Arizona Republican swung away from a prepared speech at a rally Thursday night and stirred up his dispute with Defense Secretary Robert McNamara.

He differed sharply with McNamara's assertion—backed by President Johnson — that this country is increasing its arms superiority over the Soviet Union.

Refers to Figures

Goldwater referred to figures released by the Pentagon Wednesday. Its report countered testimony by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, that the Soviet Union has closed in on the U.S. edge in military strength.

The Pentagon figures are misleading, Goldwater said, given out only to silence critics.

The military comparison figures released by the Defense Department said this country has 750 intercontinental ballistic missiles, compared with fewer than 187 possessed by the Soviet Union. The United States has 540 strategic bombers, maintained constantly on alert, to the Russians' 120 heavy bombers and 150 medium bombers which could reach the United States, the Pentagon report said.

Says Truth Hidden

"The whole truth is not being told to the American people," Goldwater said. An Air Force reserve general, he has long contended that McNamara is depending too heavily on missiles over manned bombers.

State Not Watching Price Now

$1 Bottle Drop 'No Certainty'

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A drop in the price of liquor of $1 a bottle is "no certainty" as a result of the state's new liquor law, Gov. Rockefeller says.

The law, enacted by the Legislature Thursday after long wrangling in a special session and speedily signed by the governor, takes the state out of the business of enforcing minimum retail liquor prices set by distillers.

Rockefeller had argued that removing state-sponsored artificial props under prices would save consumers up to $1 a bottle, or a total of $150 million a year.

Forecast Changes

His forecast changed after the Legislature acted, however.

The new law also lays the groundwork for a lifting of the 16-year-old moratorium on issuance of additional licenses for package-liquor stores by eliminating required minimum distances between stores and relaxes the requirement that taverns sell food.

Rockefeller originally had proposed a flat repeal of the law providing for liquor price-fixing. This was defeated overwhelmingly in the final hours of the regular legislative session last month. The call to a special session followed.

Agrees to Ban

To make this part of his program more attractive to balky Republican legislators, he agreed to include a ban on sale of liquor below cost and to prohibit advertising of liquor prices.

The compromise bill approved by the Legislature also requires distillers to charge wholesalers in the state a common price and wholesalers, in turn, to charge all retailers a common price.

In addition, distillers will be required to certify to the State Liquor Authority that the price they charge New York wholesalers is at least as low as the price they charge anywhere in the country.

In Effect Oct. 31

This phase of the law goes into effect next Oct. 31.

The governor had been arguing for weeks that an end to price-fixing would have a dramatic effect on the cost of liquor. But in a post-session news conference last night, he was considerably less positive.

He said he hoped prices will drop by $1 a bottle, but there was no certainty this would happen.

The law contains an exemption from repeal of the price-fixing provisions for all wines. This was added to win the support of legislators from the grape-growing and wine-making sections of the state.

The section of the new law governing location of liquor stores removes a requirement that the stores be at least 1,500

President Urges Moderation In Struggle for Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, deploring violence and disorder in the civil rights struggle, says all groups should exercise moderation and try to understand the other fellow's viewpoint.

Johnson was asked to comment Thursday, at his biggest-ever news conference, on civil rights demonstrations that run against the law or threaten violence.

He replied:

"We do not, of course, condone violence or taking the law into your own hands, or threatening the health or safety of our people. You really do the civil rights cause no good when you go to this extent."

The President also expounded on national defense controversies, the rail negotiations, the booming economy and politics.

At one point, he virtually announced his candidacy for a four-year White House term, saying he was enjoying his work and "prepared to continue."

The conference, broadcast live by television and radio networks, marked Johnson's first appearance in the big State Department auditorium where President John F. Kennedy held all his sessions with newsmen.

Wearing television blue, Johnson faced the biggest news conference crowd on record—512 reporters and conventioneering members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. The previous high was 437 for a 1961 Kennedy conference.

Speaking slowly, softly, and tossing out occasional quips, Johnson volunteered eight announcements and fielded 16 questions with apparent ease during the 31-minute conference.

Asked to give his attitude on civil disobedience as a tactic in the civil rights struggle, Johnson said, "We do not think the violation of one right or the denial of one right, should permit the violation of another right."

The President said he would "counsel moderation to all groups, and understanding of their fellow men and trying to appreciate his position."

He said that as long as racial discrimination exists, "We are going to have protests and we are entitled to protest and petition under our constitutional rights."

But he expressed the view that Senate action "with reasonable dispatch" on the civil

Prostate Disorder Is Cause

Defends Program In Talk Earlier

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle was operated on today for a prostate gland disorder, high sources close to the French government said.

No Confirmation

But there was no formal confirmation from government spokesmen that the operation had taken place. Nor was there any official report on the 73-year-old president's health.

The sources close to the government, who declined to permit use of their names, said there was "no reason to be alarmed" about De Gaulle's condition.

They said De Gaulle himself had ordered that nothing official be said for the moment about his operation.

Policemen Guard Doorway

Four plainclothes policemen mounted guard at a doorway of the Left Bank Cochin Hospital where the operation took place at about 6 a.m.

The French News Agency earlier had reported the operation was for a disorder of the urinary tract.

The agency said that De Gaulle was taken to the Cochin Hospital about 9 p.m. Thursday shortly after his nationwide radio - television address had been broadcast.

The address had been recorded earlier. On the television screens, he appeared as vigorous as ever, and his voice was firm.

No Urgent Nature

Cochin Hospital, in the southern part of the city on the Left Bank, specializes in the treatment of urinary diseases.

The agency said that the operation was not of an urgent nature.

The independent Radio Luxembourg said the operation was for removal of the prostate gland. But this was not confirmed by any official source in Paris.

The agency said plainclothes police and two Elysee Palace policemen were guarding a room in a section of the Cochin Hospital that is headed by Dr. Prof. Aboulker, a specialist in urinary troubles.

Began This Morning

A member of the hospital staff who refused to be identified told The Associated Press "It's an open secret" that the room was occupied by the 73-year-old president.

The operation was performed this staff member said, by Aboulker and another urologist.

Ellenville Rescinds Bus Policy

Members of the Ellenville Central School Board of Education have rescinded the transportation policy governing the 1½-mile limit pickup of students in district owned buses, and adopted a new policy to transport all young pupils residing more than one mile from school.

The board also pdovided that any students residing within a mile of the school, who seek transportation, must have Board permission. It was indicated in some cases young children would be picked up with that permission only, when there is adequate room for them on the buses.

An additional $2,000 was included in the transportation item for district owned buses, increasing the total appropriation to $34,000.

It was noted that there in no state aid given for pupils transported to and from school within the mile and the 1½-mile limit. The added transportation will be paid by taxpayers of the district.

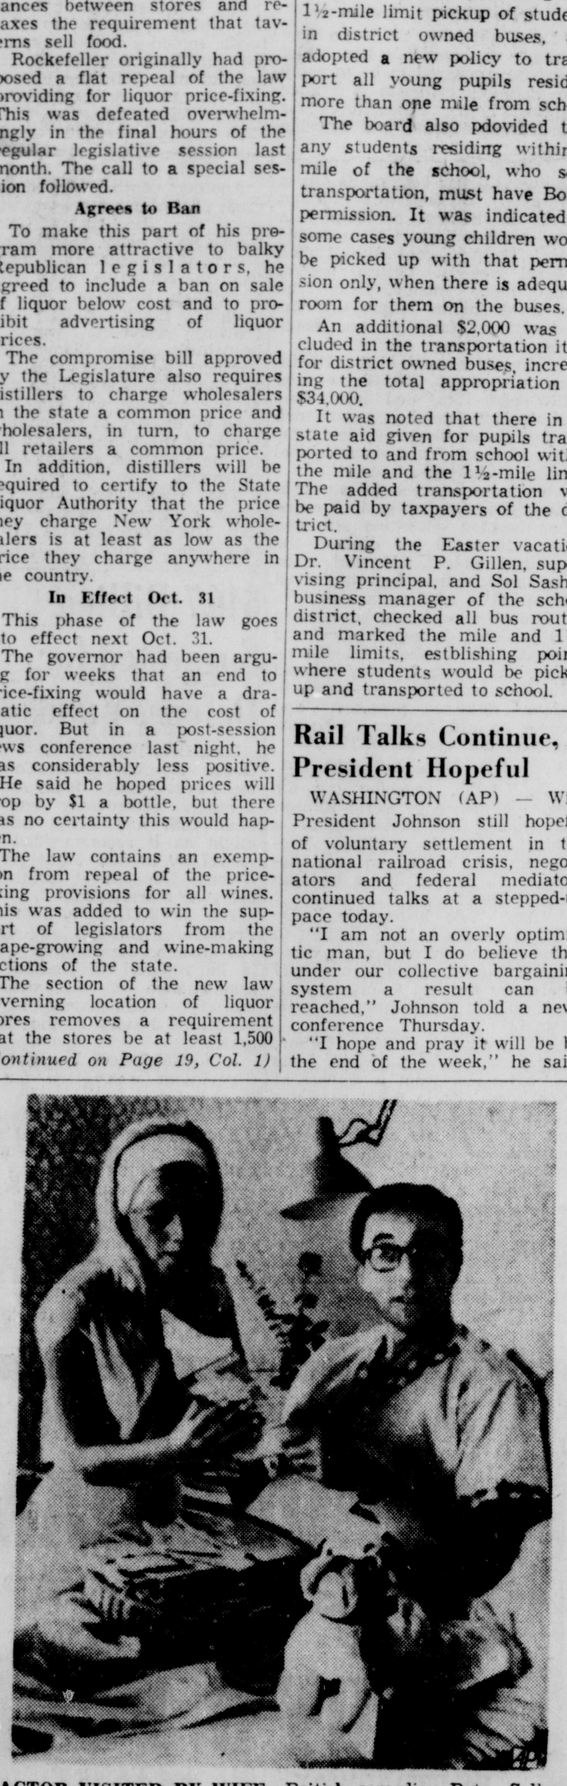

During the Easter vacation, Dr. Vincent P. Gillen, supervising principal, and Sol Sashin, business manager of the school district, checked all bus routes, and marked the mile and 1½-mile limits, estblishing points where students would be picked up and transported to school.

Rail Talks Continue, President Hopeful

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Johnson still hopeful of voluntary settlement in the national railroad crisis, negotiators and federal mediators continued talks at a stepped-up pace today.

"I am not an overly optimistic man, but I do believe that under our collective bargaining system a result can be reached," Johnson told a news conference Thursday.

"I hope and pray it will be by the end of the week," he said.

Rumor Deal Helped Pass Liquor Bill

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was back on the national political trails today after a victory in a special session of the legislature, which approved his controversial liquor reform program.

Cite Buckley Bargain

But he left behind persistent rumors that his success was due in part to a bargain with U.S. Rep. Charles A. Buckley, leader of the Bronx Democratic organization.

Some Bronx legislators voted for the bill, in opposition to most Democrats. This support was reported to have been given in exchange for Rockefeller's pledge to sign a bill that would permit candidates in a primary to be listed on the ballot in a slate.

Rockefeller told a news conference it was "unfair" to attribute such motives to the Bronx delegates.

Rockefeller, a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, said settlement of the dispute over liquor legislation had freed him to "concentrate more effectively on the national scene."

Court Test Likely

At least one provision of the legislation—a ban on advertising of liquor prices outside the seller's premises—appears likely to run into a court test. The State Council of (Protestant) Churches supported the ban, which was not part of Rockefeller's program.

Within a few hours after the legislature adjourned, Rockefeller signed the bill and left by private plane to resume his campaign in Oregon's presidential preference primary.

While the bill did not go as far as Rockefeller wanted in creating a free retail liquor market, the governor said it embodied his basic objectives.

He called the special session, which convened Wednesday, to force reconsideration of his liquor reform bill, rejected during the regular session.

Dems Provide Margin

The bill eliminates a state - supported system in which distillers have set retail liquor prices. It requires that prices to retailers be as low as those anywhere else in the nation. Retailers, however, are barred from selling below cost.

The vote on the compromise plan was 34-23 in the Senate and 80-63 in the Assembly.

Democrats provided the margin of victory. In the Senate, 29 Republicans and 5 Democrats voted for the bill, with 30 votes needed for passage. In the Assembly, the bill was supported by 73 Republicans and 7 Democrats, with 76 votes needed for passage.

The governor had sought repeal of price fixing on the ground it added $1 a fifth, or a total of $150 million a year, to consumer prices.

Hudson Sector Is Rocked by Blasts Of Gas in Sewer

A series of explosions caused by raw gasoline filtering into the City of Hudson's sewer line and igniting, Thursday afternoon rocked a six block downtown area in the Columbia County city.

Authorities said manhole covers in at least a dozen places were hurtled into the air by the blasts, and in some instances flames billowed high into air.

Police said no injuries were reported.

Hudson Fire Chief Ralph Pough responded to an alarm with three of the city's fire companies, and laid out thousands of feet of hose and with public works crews flshed out sewer lines between Front and Third Streets.

Tanks Overflow

Police Chief John J. Sullivan directed several policemen at the scene. He said gasoline tanks at a Third Street service station had overflowed and excess gasoline streamed into the city's sewer lines.

Congress Aspirant Urges Fight for Valley Bricks

A conspiracy of "neglect, indifference, or worse" is responsible for crippling the once-thriving brick industry of the Hudson Valley, it was charged today by Joseph Y. Resnick, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 28th Congressional District.

Speaking at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston this morning, Resnick said that in the past 10 years, seven Hudson Valley yards have been shut down, with the loss of about 1500 jobs, mostly in the Kingston area.

The rate of failures in increasing. In the past five years, four yards have closed. Staple's (Malden), Terry (Kingston), Shults (East Kingston) and Brigham (East Kingston). Of the remaining five yards, one in Beacon closed down last Friday, and two others are said to be in danger of immediate collapse, threatening the loss of another 250 jobs.

"A native industry that is 200 years old seems doomed to extinction," Resnick said. "The main reason for this shocking situation has been the policies of New York State which favor out-of-state brick over Hudson Valley brick in State-Financed housing," Resnick said.

Despite the fact that much of the brick specified by the State must be brought all the way from Georgia and the Carolinas, and is usually higher priced, the State gives it preference over the Hudson Valley product. "The market for our brick is being dried up by the very people who should be helping us," Resnick said. "I doesn't make sense, and it may even be that laws have been broken."

Resnick was asked to explore the industry's problem by Joseph Amato, president of the Hudson Valley Brick Handlers Union, Local 1467. The Union is affiliated with the International Longhoremen's Association. Amato has seen his union membership dwindle to 400 men as yard after yard has closed. Resnick stated that while it was true that the brick industry in general has been hard hit by newer construction techniques, such as steel and glass, it does not explain the critical condition of the Hudson Valley plants.

Khrushchev Saluted on 70th Birthday By Red Colleagues at Home and Abroad

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev celebrated his 70th birthday today with a new medal on his coat, Communist colleagues from at home and abroad gathered around and congratulations pouring in.

The former shepherd boy from the Ukraine who governs the world's largest land mass smiled faintly at the Soviet people from the front pages of all newspapers, a picture of glowing health.

But Premier Khrushchev scheduled no personal appearances for the public.

At 9 a.m. Soviet government leaders began calling on him and his wife Nina to offer congratulations. Later, visiting leaders of Soviet bloc nations were to convey their greetings personally.

However, it was a quiet birthday for the man who attacked, the personal adulation given Stalin—his 70th birthday party went on for months of praise—and reburied the dictator in an obscure grave.

Khrushchev became a "Hero of The Soviet Union" by order of the presidium of the Supreme Soviet. In receiving the highest award of his nation, Khrushchev joined a company that includes cosmonauts and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The decree cited Khrushchev's work "in building a Communist society, in strengthening the economic and defensive might of the Soviet Union, in developing fraternal friendship of the people of the USSR, in carrying out Leninist peaceful foreign policy and in recognition of his exceptional services in the struggle against Nazi invaders in the period of the great patriotic war."

Khrushchev's previous honors include three awards of Hero of Socialist Labor and a Lenin Peace Prize in 1959. He usually wears four medals on his civilian suit.

In a ceremony today in the Yekaterina Hall of the great Kremlin Palace, Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev presented Khrushchev the Order of Lenin and the Gold Star Medal in connection with his hero's award.

The presidium of the Supreme Soviet joined with two groups that Khrushchev heads, the Communist Party Central Committee and the Council of Ministers, in a birthday message that occupied newspaper front pages.

Communist leaders here for the birthday were Premier Todor Zhivkov of Bulgaria, President Antonin Novotny of Czechoslovakia, Party Secretary Walter Ulbricht of East Germany, Premier Janos Kadar of Hungary, Premier Yumzhagim Tsedenbal of Mongolia and Party Secretary Wladyslaw Gomulka of Poland.

Presidential Scholars Plan Arranged for High Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is launching a program of recognizing outstanding high school graduates as "presidential scholars" in the hope that other youths will follow their example.

Up to 121 of the bright young people—a boy and girl from each of the 50 states, two from Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia and the U.S. territories and up to 15 at large—will be brought to Washington as the guests of the government next month and receive from President Johnson a medallion symbolizing the honor.

Annual cost of the program was estimated at $25,000, to be divided by the Office of Education and the National Science Foundation. This will cover travel expenses, paper work and the like. The scholars will receive no cash award.

"These awards," said Johnson in announcing the program at his news conference Thursday, "are to recognize the most

At one point, he virtually announced his candidacy for a four-year White House term, saying he was enjoying his work and "prepared to continue."

The conference, broadcast live by television and radio networks, marked Johnson's first appearance in the big State Department auditorium where President John F. Kennedy held all his sessions with newsmen.

Wearing television blue, Johnson faced the biggest news conference crowd on record—512 reporters and conventioneering members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. The previous high was 437 for a 1961 Kennedy conference.

Speaking slowly, softly, and tossing out occasional quips, Johnson volunteered eight announcements and fielded 16 questions with apparent ease during the 31-minute conference.

Asked to give his attitude on civil disobedience as a tactic in the civil rights struggle, Johnson said, "We do not think the violation of one right or the denial of one right, should permit the violation of another right."

The President said he would "counsel moderation to all groups, and understanding of their fellow men and trying to appreciate his position."

He said that as long as racial discrimination exists, "We are going to have protests and we are entitled to protest and petition under our constitutional rights."

But he expressed the view that Senate action "with reasonable dispatch" on the civil

Prostate Disorder Is Cause

Defends Program In Talk Earlier

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle was operated on today for a prostate gland disorder, high sources close to the French government said.

No Confirmation

But there was no formal confirmation from government spokesmen that the operation had taken place. Nor was there any official report on the 73-year-old president's health.

The sources close to the government, who declined to permit use of their names, said there was "no reason to be alarmed" about De Gaulle's condition.

They said De Gaulle himself had ordered that nothing official be said for the moment about his operation.

Policemen Guard Doorway

Four plainclothes policemen mounted guard at a doorway of the Left Bank Cochin Hospital where the operation took place at about 6 a.m.

The French News Agency earlier had reported the operation was for a disorder of the urinary tract.

The agency said that De Gaulle was taken to the Cochin Hospital about 9 p.m. Thursday shortly after his nationwide radio - television address had been broadcast.

The address had been recorded earlier. On the television screens, he appeared as vigorous as ever, and his voice was firm.

No Urgent Nature

Cochin Hospital, in the southern part of the city on the Left Bank, specializes in the treatment of urinary diseases.

The agency said that the operation was not of an urgent nature.

The independent Radio Luxembourg said the operation was for removal of the prostate gland. But this was not confirmed by any official source in Paris.

The agency said plainclothes police and two Elysee Palace policemen were guarding a room in a section of the Cochin Hospital that is headed by Dr. Prof. Aboulker, a specialist in urinary troubles.

Began This Morning

A member of the hospital staff who refused to be identified told The Associated Press "It's an open secret" that the room was occupied by the 73-year-old president.

The operation was performed this staff member said, by Aboulker and another urologist.

Ellenville Rescinds Bus Policy

Members of the Ellenville Central School Board of Education have rescinded the transportation policy governing the 1½-mile limit pickup of students in district owned buses, and adopted a new policy to transport all young pupils residing more than one mile from school.

The board also pdovided that any students residing within a mile of the school, who seek transportation, must have Board permission. It was indicated in some cases young children would be picked up with that permission only, when there is adequate room for them on the buses.

An additional $2,000 was included in the transportation item for district owned buses, increasing the total appropriation to $34,000.

It was noted that there in no state aid given for pupils transported to and from school within the mile and the 1½-mile limit. The added transportation will be paid by taxpayers of the district.

During the Easter vacation, Dr. Vincent P. Gillen, supervising principal, and Sol Sashin, business manager of the school district, checked all bus routes, and marked the mile and 1½-mile limits, estblishing points where students would be picked up and transported to school.

Rail Talks Continue, President Hopeful

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Johnson still hopeful of voluntary settlement in the national railroad crisis, negotiators and federal mediators continued talks at a stepped-up pace today.

"I am not an overly optimistic man, but I do believe that under our collective bargaining system a result can be reached," Johnson told a news conference Thursday.

"I hope and pray it will be by the end of the week," he said.

Rumor Deal Helped Pass Liquor Bill

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was back on the national political trails today after a victory in a special session of the legislature, which approved his controversial liquor reform program.

Cite Buckley Bargain

But he left behind persistent rumors that his success was due in part to a bargain with U.S. Rep. Charles A. Buckley, leader of the Bronx Democratic organization.

Some Bronx legislators voted for the bill, in opposition to most Democrats. This support was reported to have been given in exchange for Rockefeller's pledge to sign a bill that would permit candidates in a primary to be listed on the ballot in a slate.

Rockefeller told a news conference it was "unfair" to attribute such motives to the Bronx delegates.

Rockefeller, a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, said settlement of the dispute over liquor legislation had freed him to "concentrate more effectively on the national scene."

Court Test Likely

At least one provision of the legislation—a ban on advertising of liquor prices outside the seller's premises—appears likely to run into a court test. The State Council of (Protestant) Churches supported the ban, which was not part of Rockefeller's program.

Within a few hours after the legislature adjourned, Rockefeller signed the bill and left by private plane to resume his campaign in Oregon's presidential preference primary.

While the bill did not go as far as Rockefeller wanted in creating a free retail liquor market, the governor said it embodied his basic objectives.

He called the special session, which convened Wednesday, to force reconsideration of his liquor reform bill, rejected during the regular session.

Dems Provide Margin

The bill eliminates a state - supported system in which distillers have set retail liquor prices. It requires that prices to retailers be as low as those anywhere else in the nation. Retailers, however, are barred from selling below cost.

The vote on the compromise plan was 34-23 in the Senate and 80-63 in the Assembly.

Democrats provided the margin of victory. In the Senate, 29 Republicans and 5 Democrats voted for the bill, with 30 votes needed for passage. In the Assembly, the bill was supported by 73 Republicans and 7 Democrats, with 76 votes needed for passage.

The governor had sought repeal of price fixing on the ground it added $1 a fifth, or a total of $150 million a year, to consumer prices.

Hudson Sector Is Rocked by Blasts Of Gas in Sewer

A series of explosions caused by raw gasoline filtering into the City of Hudson's sewer line and igniting, Thursday afternoon rocked a six block downtown area in the Columbia County city.

Authorities said manhole covers in at least a dozen places were hurtled into the air by the blasts, and in some instances flames billowed high into air.

Police said no injuries were reported.

Hudson Fire Chief Ralph Pough responded to an alarm with three of the city's fire companies, and laid out thousands of feet of hose and with public works crews flshed out sewer lines between Front and Third Streets.

Tanks Overflow

Police Chief John J. Sullivan directed several policemen at the scene. He said gasoline tanks at a Third Street service station had overflowed and excess gasoline streamed into the city's sewer lines.

The first explosion occurred at

Congress Aspirant Urges Fight for Valley Bricks

A conspiracy of "neglect, indifference, or worse" is responsible for crippling the once-thriving brick industry of the Hudson Valley, it was charged today by Joseph Y. Resnick, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 28th Congressional District.

Speaking at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston this morning, Resnick said that in the past 10 years, seven Hudson Valley yards have been shut down, with the loss of about 1500 jobs, mostly in the Kingston area.

The rate of failures in increasing. In the past five years, four yards have closed. Staple's (Malden), Terry (Kingston), Shults (East Kingston) and Brigham (East Kingston). Of the remaining five yards, one in Beacon closed down last Friday, and two others are said to be in danger of immediate collapse, threatening the loss of another 250 jobs.

"A native industry that is 200 years old seems doomed to extinction," Resnick said. "The main reason for this shocking situation has been the policies of New York State which favor out-of-state brick over Hudson Valley brick in State-Financed housing," Resnick said.

Despite the fact that much of the brick specified by the State must be brought all the way from Georgia and the Carolinas, and is usually higher priced, the State gives it preference over the Hudson Valley product. "The market for our brick is being dried up by the very people who should be helping us," Resnick said. "I doesn't make sense, and it may even be that laws have been broken."

Resnick was asked to explore the industry's problem by Joseph Amato, president of the Hudson Valley Brick Handlers Union, Local 1467. The Union is affiliated with the International Longhoremen's Association. Amato has seen his union membership dwindle to 400 men as yard after yard has closed. Resnick stated that while it was true that the brick industry in general has been hard hit by newer construction techniques, such as steel and glass, it does not explain the critical condition of the Hudson Valley plants.

Khrushchev Saluted on 70th Birthday By Red Colleagues at Home and Abroad

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev celebrated his 70th birthday today with a new medal on his coat, Communist colleagues from at home and abroad gathered around and congratulations pouring in.

The former shepherd boy from the Ukraine who governs the world's largest land mass smiled faintly at the Soviet people from the front pages of all newspapers, a picture of glowing health.

But Premier Khrushchev scheduled no personal appearances for the public.

At 9 a.m. Soviet government leaders began calling on him and his wife Nina to offer congratulations. Later, visiting leaders of Soviet bloc nations were to convey their greetings personally.

However, it was a quiet birthday for the man who attacked, the personal adulation given Stalin—his 70th birthday party went on for months of praise—and reburied the dictator in an obscure grave.

Khrushchev became a "Hero of The Soviet Union" by order of the presidium of the Supreme Soviet. In receiving the highest award of his nation, Khrushchev joined a company that includes cosmonauts and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The decree cited Khrushchev's work "in building a Communist society, in strengthening the economic and defensive might of the Soviet Union, in developing fraternal friendship of the people of the USSR, in carrying out Leninist peaceful foreign policy and in recognition of his exceptional services in the struggle against Nazi invaders in the period of the great patriotic war."

Khrushchev's previous honors include three awards of Hero of Socialist Labor and a Lenin Peace Prize in 1959. He usually wears four medals on his civilian suit.

In a ceremony today in the Yekaterina Hall of the great Kremlin Palace, Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev presented Khrushchev the Order of Lenin and the Gold Star Medal in connection with his hero's award.

The presidium of the Supreme Soviet joined with two groups that Khrushchev heads, the Communist Party Central Committee and the Council of Ministers, in a birthday message that occupied newspaper front pages.

Communist leaders here for the birthday were Premier Todor Zhivkov of Bulgaria, President Antonin Novotny of Czechoslovakia, Party Secretary Walter Ulbricht of East Germany, Premier Janos Kadar of Hungary, Premier Yumzhagim Tsedenbal of Mongolia and Party Secretary Wladyslaw Gomulka of Poland.

Presidential Scholars Plan Arranged for High Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is launching a program of recognizing outstanding high school graduates as "presidential scholars" in the hope that other youths will follow their example.

Up to 121 of the bright young people—a boy and girl from each of the 50 states, two from Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia and the U.S. territories and up to 15 at large—will be brought to Washington as the guests of the government next month and receive from President Johnson a medallion symbolizing the honor.

Annual cost of the program was estimated at $25,000, to be divided by the Office of Education and the National Science Foundation. This will cover travel expenses, paper work and the like. The scholars will receive no cash award.

"These awards," said Johnson in announcing the program at his news conference Thursday, "are to recognize the most

Sgt. Murphy Is Retiring From Po'keepsie Force

Detective Sergeant James A. Murphy, a member of the Poughkeepsie Police Department more than 28 years, will retire on May 29 and make his future home in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Murphy told The Freeman his resignation becomes effective on May 29, but he will terminate his work on May 9 and take his three weeks vacation. He and his wife will leave Poughkeepsie with their trailer on May 11.

He was appointed a patrolman on Dec. 29, 1935, appointed a detective in 1946 and in 1958 he was promoted to sergeant in charge of the detective division.

Murphy is widely known in the Hudson and Harlem Valley areas for his efficient police work and ability shown in his participation in the solution of an unestimated number of major criminal cases.

A civil service examination will be held soon to establish an eligibility list for the office to be vacated by Murphy. The deadline for filing applications was April 15.

Deadlocked On Beckwith Second Time

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A second white Mississippi jury deadlocked today in the Byron De La Beckwith murder trial and Circuit Judge Leon Hendrick again declared a mistrial.

This marked the end of the state's second effort to convict Beckwith, a dedicated segregationist, of the murder of Negro integration leader Medgar Evers.

The jury said it was hopelessly deadlocked after 10 hours of deliberation. It gave no breakdown of how it stood.

Beckwith's first trial ended Feb. 7 with the jury split 6-6.

He was accused of the ambush slaying of Evers, a crime that shocked the nation last summer. Evers had spearheaded mass desegregation demonstrations and boycotts here.

3 Georgia Cops Are Found Slain

ATLANTA (AP) — The FBI said today that three county policemen had been found handcuffed together and shot to death in a remote wooded area on the outskirts of Atlanta.

The FBI said Sheriff Quill Sammon of Gwinnett County reported that the three officers had been shot in the back of their heads.

FBI agents were sent to aid county authorities and to determine if any federal law had been violated.

The slain officers were reported found about 15 miles north of Atlanta.

Clinton Chafin, superintendent of the Atlanta detective force, said he understood the officers may have been investigating a report of a stolen automobile which had been set on fire in the area.

According to the investigation the truck was making a left turn and Dent was making a right turn when the Dent car struck the rear wheels of the truck. The truck was not damaged and there was minor damage about the front of the Dent car. No injuries were reported.

Returns to Campaign

Rockefeller returned to his Oregon political campaigning where the situation is just a little different than when he left March 31.

One of the differences is the beginning of a campaign for former Vice President Richard Nixon. Another is the fully developing campaign in behalf of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. They are among the six candidates on the Oregon Republican presidential preference ballot in the May 15 primary. The others are Senators Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, and a one-time GOP vice presidential candidate, Harold E. Stassen.

Oregon State University's Gill Coliseum was the setting for Rockefeller's opening appearance today.

Rockefeller will address the Portland City Club at noon, appear at an afternoon coffee, give a dinner speech at a suburban Portland Chamber of Commerce, and top the day off with a keynote address to the mock political convention of a Portland area high school tonight.

Saturday morning he will fly to California where he is entered in that area's June 2 primary.

Car Damage Reported

Police were notified at 10:30 p. m. Thursday that the car of Henry Singer, of 118 Foxhall Avenue, had been damaged by an unknown vehicle while its owner was at the Lions Club Home and Auto Show, state armory, and the car was parked on Manor Avenue, between 8:10 and 10:15 p. m. Its left side had been scraped and light green paint was found on the bumper, the report said.

Sullivan County GOP Endorses Bush to Return

Senator E. Ogden Bush (R) of DeLancey, was endorsed by acclamation at the recent Sullivan County Republican Convention held in Monticello.

The senator's name was placed before the convention by P. H. MacFarland. He was complimented for his excellent record in Albany and the representation he was giving all the counties of the 34th District in Albany.

Senator Bush, nominated by the 34th Senatorial District meeting held in February in Kingston has now been endorsed by the Republican conventions in Sullivan, Ulster and Delaware Counties. Harold Cole of Hurleyville, chairman of the Sullivan County Republican Committee, presided at the convention.

Senator Bush thanked the delegates for their support and loyalty and expressed his desire and willingness to serve the best interests of all his constituents and said that his legislation was based upon this principle rather than serving only the desires of special interests.

He said he hoped he would be able to return to Albany, and despite rumors to the contrary, serve without thought of retirement in the immediate future.

Other candidates nominated at the convention were Hyman Mintz for member of assembly; Sam Baer, county treasurer; and Florence McAdams, county clerk.

No Anxiety

He said the operation itself began this morning.

Talk Is Reply To Critics of Heavy Spending

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle defended his program of aid to underdeveloped nations Thursday night against critics who think he ought to spend part of the money for French schools and housing.

He also told a nationwide radio-television audience that France must continue to develop its independent nuclear force to keep from becoming an American protectorate and to dissuade a Soviet attack.

No New Declaration

De Gaulle, 73, made no new policy declaration. His chief purpose appeared to be to reply to mounting criticism in France against heavy expenditures for nuclear weapons and foreign aid.

France is spending approximately 1.8 per cent of its Gross National Product on foreign aid, the highest percentage in the world and more than double the .72 per cent the United States spends. Critics protest that more money should be used at home, especially for educational facilities and housing.

France's annual birth rate increased about 300,000 between 1942 and 1946, and institutions of higher learning must turn away thousands of students for lack of room. There is a critical housing shortage.

Since he returned to power in 1958, De Gaulle said, France has boosted education spending from 10 to 16 per cent of the national budget. He said housing construction has increased from 793 to 1,000 units a day.

France's revenues have risen 30 per cent during the five-year period, De Gaulle said. Therefore, he argued, why should France renounce its own nuclear defense program and cease to aid peoples "who aspire to our civilization?"

Seeks More Influence

De Gaulle, reaching out for more influence in world affairs, is bidding for leadership of a third force in politics, economics and culture to exist between the United States and the Soviet Union.

These "two hegemonies," De Gaulle asserted, "are tending to share the world so long as Western Europe is not able nor does not have the will to organize itself so that the balance may be found.

"Why then should France, which is surging forward, keep herself apart from a movement which springs in great measure from her traditional genius and on which in the final analysis depend the peace and the fate of the world?"

He told opponents of his nuclear policy that while the Soviet menace exists, "France is in danger of destruction and invasion without having any certainty that her American allies, themselves directly exposed to death, would know how to prevent this for her."

Speedy Retrial Looms, McKnight Jury Deadlocked

After deliberating until after 6 p. m. Thursday, the jury which heard the evidence in the Maranda Inc., payroll case reported it was "hoplessly deadlocked and there would be no purpose in continuing deliberations. County Judge Raymond J. Mino dismissed the jury from further consideration. The case will be re-tried.

James McKnight, 29, also known as Buster Carney, of Saugerties, was accused of entering the Maranda dress factory in Saugerties Feb. 15, 1963, and taking a payroll amounting to over $1,700. The grand jury returned a three-count indictment which charged McKnight with third degree burglary, first degree grand larceny and unlawful entry.

The case was sent to the jury only on the two felony charges, burglary and first degree grand larceny. Judge Mino dismissed the unlawful entry charge and that count, a misdemeanor, was not considered by the jury. William P. Curran, who appeared for defendant, objected to the dismissal of the misdemeanor charge.

Since McKnight is confined to jail, the prosecution in order to give a speed trial, may move the case for re-trail at the present term of County Court. The next trial term is in September. Should the case be retried at this term it may become necessary to draw an extra panel of jurors who have not been present in court during the past trial.

Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torraca appeared for the prosecution.

Lions Exposition Continues to Draw at Armory

Another capacity crowd jammed the New York State Armory as the 17th annual Industrial Exposition, Auto and Home Show, sponsored by the Kingston Lions Club went into its third night.

One of the booths drawing a large audience was that of the Ulster County Divers' Club sponsored by the Chilson, Newbery Co. Club members teach skin and scuba diving with tank regulators. They dive at Williams Lake, Fourth Binnewater, Lake George and make a trip to Beverly, Mass. for lobster diving.

The basic equipment for diving, which is on display at the booth, includes face mask, snorkel and fins. Anyone 16 years and up may join the club and take the 15-week course in skin and scuba diving. The Divers' Club meets every fourth Sunday at the Mid-Hudson Marina in Connelly.

Another booth which drew a great deal of attention was sponsored by the Ulster County Aquarium Society. On display is a tank of tropical fish specimens from the collection of Dr. Henry Eichelman, including his prize winning fancy guppies. Also drawing comment were the beautifully colored Siamese fighting fish. The Society which meets the fourth Tuesday of the month at the Armory, will donate the tank on display to the children's wards of the Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals and the County infirmary.

The Exposition and Home Show continues through Saturday. The doors open at 7 p. m. and close at 10:30.

$46.7 Billion Suggested for Defense Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee steered clear today of the Pentagon controversy over relative U.S. and Soviet military might as it recommended $46,759,267,000 in new funds for the Defense Department for the fiscal year starting July 1.

This is $711,733,000 less than President Johnson requested but enough, the committee said in its report, "to continue the maintenance of the strongest military establishment in the peacetime history of the United States."

It is $460,734,000 less than the department was given for the present fiscal year.

With only minor variations, the committee went along with the administration's recommendations as outlined to it by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. It said it was "inclined to conclude" with McNamara's testimony that "the missile force we have programmed can be depended upon to carry out its military mission under all of the conditions we can foresee."

Second Downtown Fire Under Probe

A second downtown fire this week of suspicious origin damaged a second-floor, front bedroom in an unoccupied house at 73 Ravine Street Thursday night.

Firemen said the front door of the house was open when they arrived, but doors leading to upper rooms were locked, and they broke into the bedrooms to get at the fire, which had started in a mattress. The blaze damaged a floor area and smoke was heavy in upper areas.

Units from Central and Cornell stations, the Wicks and Rapid companies answered an alarm from Box 3231, German and Ravine Streets, at 10:47 p. m., with Deputy Chief Glyn M. Southard in charge. He requested a police investigation.

Firmen listed the owner of the house as Francis Bennett, whose address is unknown.

Also under investigation is a fire early Wednesday morning which damaged a rear of a building at 142 Broadway. Firemen said the blaze started in old bedding and spread to the ceiling and walls. The building is owned by Nicholas Schwartz, of 42 Abeel Street.

A pickup truck owned by Al's Appliance Store, 85 North Front Street, caught fire Thursday afternoon near 93 North Front Street. Three boxes of plastic and metal toys and a floor area of the truck were reported damaged. It was operated by Peter Mottsey, of East Kingston. A unit from Wiltwyck Station with Capt. Harry L. Sills in charge, answered a call at 4:49 p. m. Origin of the blaze is unknown.

A call at 8:41 p. m., was for a car fire in the lot of Kingston Plaza Shopping Center, but firemen were told that the owner had doused the blaze and left the lot before a unit from Wiltwyck Station arrived.

DIED

Memoriam

In loving memory of my husband and our father, John (Big John) Schallenkamp on this April 17, his 39th birthday, who passed away Feb. 19, 1964.

In silence you suffered such terrible pain
Never once did you complain
God slowly closed your eyes
And took you by the hand
To dwell forever in His beautiful land
Because of your great strength
We go on from day to day
We laugh, we smile, for the world
No one knows the many tears we weep
Long after they are fast asleep
In our hearts you will live forever
Our love for you can never die
God Bless You and Keep You
Till the day we meet again.

Lovingly,

Sgt. Murphy Is Retiring From Po'keepsie Force

Detective Sergeant James A. Murphy, a member of the Poughkeepsie Police Department more than 28 years, will retire on May 29 and make his future home in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Murphy told The Freeman his resignation becomes effective on May 29, but he will terminate his work on May 9 and take his three weeks vacation. He and his wife will leave Poughkeepsie with their trailer on May 11.

He was appointed a patrolman on Dec. 29, 1935, appointed a detective in 1946 and in 1958 he was promoted to sergeant in charge of the detective division.

Murphy is widely known in the Hudson and Harlem Valley areas for his efficient police work and ability shown in his participation in the solution of an unestimated number of major criminal cases.

A civil service examination will be held soon to establish an eligibility list for the office to be vacated by Murphy. The deadline for filing applications was April 15.

A report a 4:58 p. m. said the bicycle of Walter Mayone, of 94 Merilina Avnue, had been taken from the school yard and two later reports said bicycles owned by Michael Winne, of 280 Washington Avenue, and Lee Yaples, of 298 Lucas Avenue, were missing from the same place.

A fourth report said the bicycle of Wayne Fatum, of 743 Broadway had been taken from near the YMCA, and one earlier Thursday by Frank Egan, of 137 Fair Street, said his son's bicycle had been taken from near that address between 7:30 and 11 p. m. Wednesday.

Deadlocked On Beckwith Second Time

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A second white Mississippi jury deadlocked today in the Byron De La Beckwith murder trial and Circuit Judge Leon Hendrick again declared a mistrial.

This marked the end of the state's second effort to convict Beckwith, a dedicated segregationist, of the murder of Negro integration leader Medgar Evers.

The jury said it was hopelessly deadlocked after 10 hours of deliberation. It gave no breakdown of how it stood.

Beckwith's first trial ended Feb. 7 with the jury split 6-6.

He was accused of the ambush slaying of Evers, a crime that shocked the nation last summer. Evers had spearheaded mass desegregation demonstrations and boycotts here.

3 Georgia Cops Are Found Slain

ATLANTA (AP) — The FBI said today that three county policemen had been found handcuffed together and shot to death in a remote wooded area on the outskirts of Atlanta.

The FBI said Sheriff Quill Sammon of Gwinnett County reported that the three officers had been shot in the back of their heads.

FBI agents were sent to aid county authorities and to determine if any federal law had been violated.

The slain officers were reported found about 15 miles north of Atlanta.

Clinton Chafin, superintendent of the Atlanta detective force, said he understood the officers may have been investigating a report of a stolen automobile which had been set on fire in the area.

Largest pike hatchery in the U. S. is at North Platte, Nebr., home town of Buffalo Bill Cody.

According to the investigation the truck was making a left turn and Dent was making a right turn when the Dent car struck the rear wheels of the truck. The truck was not damaged and there was minor damage about the front of the Dent car. No injuries were reported.

Returns to Campaign

Rockefeller returned to his Oregon political campaigning where the situation is just a little different than when he left March 31.

One of the differences is the beginning of a campaign for former Vice President Richard Nixon. Another is the fully developing campaign in behalf of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. They are among the six candidates on the Oregon Republican presidential preference ballot in the May 15 primary. The others are Senators Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, and a one-time GOP vice presidential candidate, Harold E. Stassen.

Oregon State University's Gill Coliseum was the setting for Rockefeller's opening appearance today.

Rockefeller will address the Portland City Club at noon, appear at an afternoon coffee, give a dinner speech at a suburban Portland Chamber of Commerce, and top the day off with a keynote address to the mock political convention of a Portland area high school tonight.

Saturday morning he will fly to California where he is entered in that area's June 2 primary.

Car Damage Reported

Police were notified at 10:30 p. m. Thursday that the car of Henry Singer, of 118 Foxhall Avenue, had been damaged by an unknown vehicle while its owner was at the Lions Club Home and Auto Show, state armory, and the car was parked on Manor Avenue, between 8:10 and 10:15 p. m. Its left side had been scraped and light green paint was found on the bumper, the report said.

Sullivan County GOP Endorses Bush to Return

Senator E. Ogden Bush (R) of DeLancey, was endorsed by acclamation at the recent Sullivan County Republican Convention held in Monticello.

The senator's name was placed before the convention by P. H. MacFarland. He was complimented for his excellent record in Albany and the representation he was giving all the counties of the 34th District in Albany.

Senator Bush, nominated by the 34th Senatorial District meeting held in February in Kingston has now been endorsed by the Republican conventions in Sullivan, Ulster and Delaware Counties. Harold Cole of Hurleyville, chairman of the Sullivan County Republican Committee, presided at the convention.

Senator Bush thanked the delegates for their support and loyalty and expressed his desire and willingness to serve the best interests of all his constituents and said that his legislation was based upon this principle rather than serving only the desires of special interests.

He said he hoped he would be able to return to Albany, and despite rumors to the contrary, serve without thought of retirement in the immediate future.

Other candidates nominated at the convention were Hyman Mintz for member of assembly; Sam Baer, county treasurer; and Florence McAdams, county clerk.

No Anxiety

He said the operation itself began this morning.

Talk Is Reply To Critics of Heavy Spending

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle defended his program of aid to underdeveloped nations Thursday night against critics who think he ought to spend part of the money for French schools and housing.

He also told a nationwide radio-television audience that France must continue to develop its independent nuclear force to keep from becoming an American protectorate and to dissuade a Soviet attack.

No New Declaration

De Gaulle, 73, made no new policy declaration. His chief purpose appeared to be to reply to mounting criticism in France against heavy expenditures for nuclear weapons and foreign aid.

France is spending approximately 1.8 per cent of its Gross National Product on foreign aid, the highest percentage in the world and more than double the .72 per cent the United States spends. Critics protest that more money should be used at home, especially for educational facilities and housing.

France's annual birth rate increased about 300,000 between 1942 and 1946, and institutions of higher learning must turn away thousands of students for lack of room. There is a critical housing shortage.

Since he returned to power in 1958, De Gaulle said, France has boosted education spending from 10 to 16 per cent of the national budget. He said housing construction has increased from 793 to 1,000 units a day.

France's revenues have risen 30 per cent during the five-year period, De Gaulle said. Therefore, he argued, why should France renounce its own nuclear defense program and cease to aid peoples "who aspire to our civilization?"

Seeks More Influence

De Gaulle, reaching out for more influence in world affairs, is bidding for leadership of a third force in politics, economics and culture to exist between the United States and the Soviet Union.

These "two hegemonies," De Gaulle asserted, "are tending to share the world so long as Western Europe is not able nor does not have the will to organize itself so that the balance may be found.

"Why then should France, which is surging forward, keep herself apart from a movement which springs in great measure from her traditional genius and on which in the final analysis depend the peace and the fate of the world?"

He told opponents of his nuclear policy that while the Soviet menace exists, "France is in danger of destruction and invasion without having any certainty that her American allies, themselves directly exposed to death, would know how to prevent this for her."

Speedy Retrial Looms, McKnight Jury Deadlocked

After deliberating until after 6 p. m. Thursday, the jury which heard the evidence in the Maranda Inc., payroll case reported it was "hopelessly deadlocked and there would be no purpose in continuing deliberations. County Judge Raymond J. Mino dismissed the jury from further consideration. The case will be re-tried.

James McKnight, 29, also known as Buster Carney, of Saugerties, was accused of entering the Maranda dress factory in Saugerties Feb. 15, 1963, and taking a payroll amounting to over $1,700. The grand jury returned a three-count indictment which charged McKnight with third degree burglary, first degree grand larceny and unlawful entry.

The case was sent to the jury only on the two felony charges, burglary and first degree grand larceny. Judge Mino dismissed the unlawful entry charge and that count, a misdemeanor, was not considered by the jury. William P. Curran, who appeared for defendant, objected to the dismissal of the misdemeanor charge.

Since McKnight is confined to jail, the prosecution in order to give a speed trial, may move the case for re-trail at the present term of County Court. The next trial term is in September. Should the case be retried at this term it may become necessary to draw an extra panel of jurors who have not been present in court during the past trial.

Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torraca appeared for the prosecution.

Lions Exposition Continues to Draw at Armory

Another capacity crowd jammed the New York State Armory as the 17th annual Industrial Exposition, Auto and Home Show, sponsored by the Kingston Lions Club went into its third night.

One of the booths drawing a large audience was that of the Ulster County Divers' Club sponsored by the Chilson, Newbery Co. Club members teach skin and scuba diving with tank regulators. They dive at Williams Lake, Fourth Binnewater, Lake George and make a trip to Beverly, Mass. for lobster diving.

The basic equipment for diving, which is on display at the booth, includes face mask, snorkel and fins. Anyone 16 years and up may join the club and take the 15-week course in skin and scuba diving. The Divers' Club meets every fourth Sunday at the Mid-Hudson Marina in Connelly.

Another booth which drew a great deal of attention was sponsored by the Ulster County Aquarium Society. On display is a tank of tropical fish specimens from the collection of Dr. Henry Eichelman, including his prize winning fancy guppies. Also drawing comment were the beautifully colored Siamese fighting fish. The Society which meets the fourth Tuesday of the month at the Armory, will donate the tank on display to the children's wards of the Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals and the County infirmary.

The Exposition and Home Show continues through Saturday. The doors open at 7 p. m. and close at 10:30.

$46.7 Billion Suggested for Defense Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee steered clear today of the Pentagon controversy over relative U.S. and Soviet military might as it recommended $46,759,267,000 in new funds for the Defense Department for the fiscal year starting July 1.

This is $711,733,000 less than President Johnson requested but enough, the committee said in its report, "to continue the maintenance of the strongest military establishment in the peacetime history of the United States."

It is $460,734,000 less than the department was given for the present fiscal year.

With only minor variations, the committee went along with the administration's recommendations as outlined to it by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. It said it was "inclined to conclude" with McNamara's testimony that "the missile force we have programmed can be depended upon to carry out its military mission under all of the conditions we can foresee."

Second Downtown Fire Under Probe

A second downtown fire this week of suspicious origin damaged a second-floor, front bedroom in an unoccupied house at 73 Ravine Street Thursday night.

Firemen said the front door of the house was open when they arrived, but doors leading to upper rooms were locked, and they broke into the bedrooms to get at the fire, which had started in a mattress. The blaze damaged a floor area and smoke was heavy in upper areas.

Units from Central and Cornell stations, the Wicks and Rapid companies answered an alarm from Box 3231, German and Ravine Streets, at 10:47 p. m., with Deputy Chief Glyn M. Southard in charge. He requested a police investigation.

Firmen listed the owner of the house as Francis Bennett, whose address is unknown.

Also under investigation is a fire early Wednesday morning which damaged a rear of a building at 142 Broadway. Firemen said the blaze started in old bedding and spread to the ceiling and walls. The building is owned by Nicholas Schwartz, of 42 Abeel Street.

A pickup truck owned by Al's Appliance Store, 85 North Front Street, caught fire Thursday afternoon near 93 North Front Street. Three boxes of plastic and metal toys and a floor area of the truck were reported damaged. It was operated by Peter Mottsey, of East Kingston. A unit from Wiltwyck Station with Capt. Harry L. Sills in charge, answered a call at 4:49 p. m. Origin of the blaze is unknown.

A call at 8:41 p. m., was for a car fire in the lot of Kingston Plaza Shopping Center, but firemen were told that the owner had doused the blaze and left the lot before a unit from Wiltwyck Station arrived.

DIED

Memoriam

In loving memory of my husband and our father, John (Big John) Schallenkamp on this April 17, his 39th birthday, who passed away Feb. 19, 1964.

In silence you suffered such terrible pain
Never once did you complain
God slowly closed your eyes
And took you by the hand
To dwell forever in His beautiful land
Because of your great strength
We go on from day to day
We laugh, we smile, for the world
No one knows the many tears we weep
Long after they are fast asleep
In our hearts you will live forever
Our love for you can never die
God Bless You and Keep You
Till the day we meet again.

Village Board Appointments Are Announced

NEW PALTZ — At the recent annual village board meeting Mayor Henry DuBois appointed Trustee Robert G. DuBois as acting mayor.

The mayor appointed the trustess to serve on the following committees for the coming year, with the first named person as chairman:

Street, William George, Mr. DuBois; finance, Harold Phillips and Leland Heinz; light, Mr. Heinz, Mr. Georg:; sewer, Mr. Heinz, Mr. Phillips; building, Mr. DuBois; youth, Mr. DuBois and Mr. George; firemen, Mr. Phillips; insurance, Mr. George and Mr. DuBois.

Also at the annual meeting, the village board reappointed Byron White to the planning Board for a five-year term. Mr. White is now serving as chairman of the village planning board.

Local League Adds Two Teams

At the recent meeting of the managers of the Little New Paltz League held at the home of Lee Keator at 31 Millrock Road, to review the 1964 applications, it was found that over 160 applications have been received.

This would place at least 20 boys on a team as there were eight teams last year. The managers felt that playing a six-inning game, all of the boys would not get a chance to play, so it was decided that two more teams would be added. Games will be played five nights a week with rained-out games played on Saturday.

Fifty new uniforms will be purchased this year—those for the new teams and two each for the present eight teams. Twenty-four T-shirts and 18 dozen caps also will be purchased at a cost of $982.60.

The league members themselves raise most of the funds by selling booster tickets. The community contributes generously for this cause.

The list of new boys this year are: 9-year-olds—John Porter, Joseph Newkirk, Paul Van Ryn, Duane Decker, Larry Barclay, Richard Pesavento, Henry Hudson, Ricky Ruiz, Gary Johnston, Gary Schaffert, Gregory Whitton, Danny Farrell, Craig Wood, Robert Ashton, Brad Cushnell, Mark Schreiber, Bucky Sutter, Wayne Freer, Timmy Smith, Michael Duryea, Steven Manganaro and Craig Hart.

Also, Jay Stolzfus, Philip Marks, Peter Divan, John Coffey, Marc Conklin, Anthony Alessi, Guy McCord, Louis Tierney, William Gittings, Daniel McSweeney, John Tozzi, William Decker, Douglas Hoskin and Salvatore Liucci.

Ten-year-olds — Thomas Baker, Ronald Crans, Ben Langwick, Robert Marks, Glen Weston and James Wexler.

Eleven-year-olds — Henry Biscardi, George Clark, Richard Giddings, Thomas Mayer, Peter Power, Donald Sack, Charles Tozzi and Frank Tozzi.

Twelve-year-olds — Raymond Ciccarelli, Derek Crites, Ross Douglas, Paul Fabrella, George Roberts, Robert Stanmyer and Andrew Wexler.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, APRIL 17, 1964

OUR NATURAL TREASURE

Everybody can breathe a small sigh of relief now. The Pieta, Michelangelo's marble masterpiece of Christ and the Virgin Mary, has arrived safely at the New York World's Fair.

America thanks the Italian people who overcame their understandable fear in allowing this national treasure to be moved from its place in the Vatican for the first time since it was created 465 years ago.

America has not portable treasure to send in return, unless it is the original of the Declaration of Independence or the Constitution. Our treasures are of the land itself — "of purple mountain majesties," the "fruited plains."

We would hestitate to let the Declaration of Independence leave the country. Alas, we exhibit no such concern over our natural inheritance.

Conservationists are having to fight tooth and nail to push a bill through Congress to preserve remaining wilderness areas which are still in the public domain.

Too much of the public domain is already gone. The magnificent redwood trees—living things whose age dwarfs the four and a half centuries of the Pieta — were literally put under the ax by a thoughtless government in the 19th century for a little as $1.25 an acre.

These trees, some of which were tall when Christ was born, are being cut down at the rate of a billion board feet a year. It is predicted that within 20 years, all but a miniscule 3 per cent of virgin redwood forest under state protection will have been transformed into recreation room paneling, picnic benches and what not.

Who cares? Maybe somebody in the 21st century will. By then it will be too late.

RUNNING LIGHTS

The idea of daytime running lights for automobiles is beginning to take hold. Both common sense and a small but significant amount of experience suggest that such lights might be an important safety factor.

For the past two years, a nationwide bus line has required that headlights be on during daylight operation. This has reportedly brought a 15 per cent decrease in accidents. Although this is far from conclusive evidence, it strongly indicates that daytime lights do tend to curtail accidents.

Higher visibility is the key. A great number of accidents involve impact between a car on a high-speed highway and one emerging from an intersecting road. Many of these crashes occur because a fast-moving automobile — especially one of light color — is hard to see at a sharp angle and may suddenly appear "out of nowhere."

The flash of a running light may make the difference. Lights which turn on automatically when the car starts can be easily installed. They are no guarantee of safety, but they my be a significant protection.

WE'RE LOSING TIME

This is a somewhat belated acknowledgement of reports that the earth has been rotating more slowly the past couple of years. It seems worth noting, especially since the astronomers put their clocks back a tenth of a second on April to allow for the slower rate of spin.

A tenth of a second may seem like a fairly inconsequential fragment of time. But consider. This tenth of a second applies to everyone on earth. There are roughly three billion of us now. A statistician might say that this works out to a time loss of approximately 300 million man-seconds.

And what does 300 million man-seconds amount to? Substantially more than 83,000 hours. Which in turn is about nine and a half years. So humanity just lost nine and a half man-years. Then there's the fact that the astronomical clocks had already been set back a tenth of a second just last November. There went another nine and half man-years.

Which proves that figures can be kicked around to mean almost anything.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

WHO'S A TROTSKYIST NOW?

Said Topsy to Turvy, "It's good the UN is taking hold in Cyprus to keep the Greeks and the Turks from knocking each other in the head. We'll get a rational world yet."

"Maybe we will," said Turvy to Topsy. "But consider the strange business that makes India one of the peace keepers in Cyprus when the Cypriots, or somebody else, ought to be keeping the peace in India. Have you thought about that?"

"I suppose you are alluding to the fact that the commander of the UN forces in Cyprus is an Indian, Lieutenant General Prem Singh Gyani from the Punjab? Or at least he was the commander the last time I saw the papers."

"Exactly," said Turvy. "And what beats me is why Nehru should export his peace keepers when he needs them so badly at home."

"Come to think of it," said Topsy, "India is a little bit like Cyprus. The Hindus kill the Moslems. The Moslems kill the Hindus. Just like Turkish and Greek Cypriots, only on so much grander a scale. The UN doesn't do anything about that."

"This man Nehru," said Turvy, "beats me. I remember when he was a noble, put-upon fellow. The British had him in jail. It was a terrible thing. They finally let him out, yet he kept right on talking about the need to detach India from British rule. Oh, he was a patriot, this Nehru. When he was in jail he wrote a big book about history. But what he didn't say about history is that he, Nehru, seems to be condemned to repeat it."

"How so?" asked Topsy.

"Haven't you heard of the Kashmiri leader, Sheik Mohammed Abdullah? He's been a noble, put-on fellow. Nehru clapped him into jail ten years ago. It was a terrible thing. They finally let him out, and he started to talk all over again about the need to let Kashmir vote on self-determination. Oh, he is a patriot, this Sheik Mohammed Abdullah. I haven't heard that he wrote a book in jail about history, but not everybody can be cultivated as Nehru, who was educated by the British. Or maybe the Sheik distrusts words after noticing what Nehru does to belie them."

I suppose you are referring to the fact that Nehu did not send friend Lieutenant General Prem Singh Gyani from the Punjab into the Portuguese Indian colony of Goa to keep the peace between the Goans and the invading Indians," said Topsy.

"We'll let that one pass," said Turvy. "Only I must say that what happened in Goa may have given Red China's Mao Tse-tung an idea. Could be that the Himalayas are just Goa to Mao Tse-tung."

"Speaking of Mao," said Topsy, "I see where he's been calling Khrushchev a Trotskyite. That's just what Khrushchev is now calling Mao. Khrushchev also says that Mao is guilty of Stalinism. Does this mean that Trotsky and Stalin stood for the same thing? If that is true, then if Khrushchev is a Trotskyite he's also a Stalinist. What gives with these name-callers, anyway?"

"It's this way," said Turvy. "Trotsky believed in world revolution. Stalin believed in Russia First. As the Marxists say, this makes Khrushchev objectively a Stalinist. Yet he hates the memory of Stalin. Mao loves the memory of Stalin, but he doesn't believe in Russia First. He's for the permanent world revolution. You figure it out if you can."

"I've been trying to," said Topsy. "But when Khrushchev said the Red Chinese were following a course of 'petty bourgeois adventurism'— and that's an exact quote— I lost my way completely. I know what a 'petty bourgeois' is. He's the tailor in the corner shop. He's the man who clerks in a store. Are these the sort of Chinese who would follow Mao to the ends of the earth? Or at least to the end of South Vietnam?"

"You've got me," said Turvy. "But maybe we should be thankful for small favors. Such as the fact that Casey Stengel was never exposed to the science of Marxist name-calling. Or to the historical logic of Nehru. Stengel's never got to first base in real double talk."

"Yes," said Topsy. "And maybe it's a miracle that India has just one peace-keeper available for export to Cyprus. We might have done worse."

The Doctor's Mailbag

Hemorrhoids Are Painful, But Ailment Can Be Cured

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What is the cause of hemorrhoids and what is the best treatment?

A—A hemorrhoid is an enlargement of one of the veins at the outlet of the bowel. There are two principal types. One is the small acutely inflamed hemorrhoid close to the outlet which can often be relieved by rectal suppositories.

Failing this, your doctor can make a simple incision and remove the clot. The other type is the enlargement of several veins a little higher in the rectum. This type almost always has to be removed surgically.

Factors that may cause hemorrhoids include prolonged straining at stool, pregnancy and hereditary weakness of the supporting tissues around the rectal veins.

Q—I have heard that sauerkraut juice is good for stomach ulcers. Is this true?

A—Fresh cabbage juice, not sauerkraut juice, has been used in the treatment of peptic ulcers. Some observers have reported beneficial results, but this treatment must be considered experimental. It is not a substitute for the other measures that have long been used to treat ulcers.

Q—My doctor has had me take Orinase for almost three years. My urine tests show no sugar. Should I go on taking this medicine?

A—You undoubtedly have a mild, well-controlled case of diabetes. The purpose of the tolbutamide (Orinase) is to keep the urine from showing any sugar. If your doctor is in doubt as to whether you should continue to take this drug, he will recheck your blood sugar and glucose tolerance test. He would be more likely to reduce the dose than to discontinue it. In any case it would be unwise to make any change in your routine without his recommendation.

Q—I recently pulled my hamstring muscle. My doctor recommended rest and sun-bathing followed by moderate kicking exercises. Will this cure it?

A—The treatment you received should have led to recovery by now. Some doctors advocate alternating hot and cold packs—10 or 15 minutes each for 40 to 60 minutes two or three times a day. One of the steroid hormones (cortisone group) usually speeds recovery. Care should be taken not to repeat the injury as the cure become more difficult each time it occurs in the same muscle.

Q—Would an injection of 300,000 units of penicillin be considered an overdose for a person who is allergic to it?

A—Any dose of penicillin (or any other drug) is an overdose for a person with an allergy to that drug. That is the reason you should always tell your doctor of any known drug allergies you may have.

"The President Says All We Gotta Do Is Get New Wheels, a New Body an' Get Her Back on the Track!"

Washington News

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — It is true, as Gen. Douglas MacArthur said, that the British government did tell the Indian government to tell the Chinese Communist government that Gen. MacArthur and the U. S.-United Nations forces in Korea would not be allowed to bomb or enter Manchuria in the drive north of the 38th parallel after the brilliant Inchon landings.

The British did this at the request of the U. S. Department of State.

This roundabout message was sent shortly before the Red Chinese entered the war as MacArthur's forces swiftly advanced northward. It was intended, say U. S. diplomats, to keep the Red Chinese out of action. It didn't.

It was known in Washington that the Red Chinese were arguing whether or not to enter the Korean conflict. Some of the top Reds said they had to come to the aid of a neighboring Communist country; they claimed there was no way out of it.

Others argued that there was a strong danger of getting into a war with the United States. They said this might mean they would have to evacuate the costal cities and some strategic areas of Manchuria.

The Chinese Reds weren't certain how much aid they would get from the Russians. Some argued they needed more time to build their strength after their takeover of mainland China.

With this in mind, there were lengthy Defense-State conferences. At the end, there was agreement that whatever possible should be done to keep the Red Chinese out.

Sending the message to Mao Tse-Tung was only the first step.

The Pentagon ordered MacArthur to halt his American and non-Korean U. N. troops well short of the Korean-Manchurian border. He was told that only South Korean troops should be allowed to advance up to the border areas.

The U.S. defense chiefs also ordered MacArthur to make assurances to the Red Chinese they would not be cut off from the electric power they were getting from the major North Korean power plant in the Yalu area.

MacArthur opposed these two orders. They were not carried out.

Once the Red Chinese entered the war, preparations were made at the Pentagon for all eventualities. These included preparations for the possible evacuation of U.S.-U.N. forces from Korea.

THIS TURN OF EVENTS about ended efforts to secure any agreement with the Red Chinese up to the time of the truce talks.

The British did make an attempt to talk to Red Chinese representative Wu when he appeared before the United Nations. They wanted to explore what could be done to get the Chinese Communists to agree to peace. Wu accepted a luncheon engagement. But he wouldn't talk.

As a result, the British, whose ambassador in Peking was being ignored by the Red Chinese, were about fed up. One British source says: "By this time we were disillusioned with the Chinese Communists. There weren't any areas for discussion."

So the war moved on until the Red Chinese began to lose. Then they asked for truce talks.

Concern in Congress Shows Fear Is for Rights Crisis

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — When the leaders of the Republican and Democratic parties of the United States Senate join together to warn the organizers of public demonstrations on the racial problems that they must not violate the laws of the land it is a significant indication of the great concern that pervades the Congress today lest the civil rights conflict bring a national crisis.

The joint statement was followed by a pointed affirmation of support by President Johnson at his news conference yesterday. For these utterances are the first that have been specifically directed by government spokesmen here to the demonstrators, who now are being told that what they are doing may do more harm than good to their cause.

It was only a few weeks ago when Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, chairman of the House Committee on Education and Labor and one of the most prominent of the Negro clergymen in the country, addressed a mass meeting of demonstrators at Cambridge, Md. As transcribed by the National Broadcasting Co.'s radio service, he declared:

"It is divinely right for Martin Luther King to break the law in Montgomery, Ala. It is divinely right for the students in Jackson, Miss., last night to break the law in Jackson, Miss. It's divinely right for the people of Harlem to break the law and keep their kids out of school yesterday. It's divinely right for the people of Cambridge, Md., to break the law until they have a share in making the law."

Mr. Powell's line of argument has since then been repeated often by other Negro leaders, and recently plans were announced that a demonstration might take the form of stalling traffic on streets and highways to the World's Fair in New York, particularly on opening day. Hence, what President Johnson and the leaders of both parties in the Senate have just said becomes of major importance as timely counsel to those who are following the paths that lead to violence.

The joint statement issued Wednesday by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn., Democratic majority whip, and by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, Calif., Republican minority whip, reads as follows:

"Civil wrongs do not bring civil rights. Civil disobedience does not bring equal protection under the laws. Disorder does not bring law and order.

"We are standing for law and order. We are working for fair play. And we are working for equal protection under the laws for all American citizens. This is the purpose of the civil rights bill.

"The right of petition is a basic right in America, but it also is basic to our system of government that there must be respect for the law. No one can condone violation of the law. The main reason we are advocating the civil rights bill is because too many states and too many individuals are defying the law of our Constitution and are denying Constitutional rights to our fellow citizens.

"Those who are struggling for civil rights will help their cause greatly by conducting their peaceful crusade with the same good manners, forbearance and devotion so abundantly displayed last August in the civil rights march on Washington.

"Violence is the very antithesis of law and order. Illegal disturbances, demonstrations, which lead to violence or to injury, strike grievous blows at the cause of decent civil rights legislation.

"Unruly demonstrations and protests that bring hardship and unnecessary inconvenience to others — even by those who have long suffered indignities— are not helping the cause of civil rights. Indeed, they are hurting our efforts in Congress to pass an effective civil rights bill."

President Johnson said to his news conference yesterday:

"We do not, of course, condone violence or taking the law into your own hands, or threatening the health or safety of our people. You really do the civil rights cause no good when you go to this extent . . . I would counsel moderation to all groups."

Just before the President made his comments at his news conference, the leaders of six of the largest of the country's organizations of Negro petitioners for anti-discrimination laws condemned the plan for a traffic tie-up at the World's Fair and said it was contrary to the best interests and needs of the Negro people. The statement was read at the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, which devoted a part of its program yesterday to a discussion of civil rights in which prominent Negro leaders participated.

The computer is our new boss. It has become man's mind, without the mistakes. There are over 16,000 of them working in the United States and they can write a song, remember, recall, forget, execute complex arithmetical problems, fire a missile, solve a riddle, send bills, fire a manager, think of alternate solutions, and one called the Gardner-Denver, can wire another computer.

It looks like a delicatessen dairy counter with neat trim, glass panels, and slots. Gilbert Burck, a writer for Fortune Magazine, thinks it may be more beneficial for man than any other invention, including the wheel. As recently as 2,000 years ago, man's knowledge was passed on mostly by speech. After that, the written word did it. Then came the printing press, and knowledge was easy to give.

Today the digital computer reads punched holes, instead of letters and words. The machine is an assortment of wires, electricity, diodes, transistors and vacuum tubes. Each is a common item. Together, they are terrifying. It is like putting the minds of ten thousands scientists together, and removing the consciences.

So far, it cannot initiate thought; that is, it cannot think of something with which it has had no experience. It is just beginning to try deductive thought; given the circumstances of a ship sinking, it will predict the sinking of others. The machine, like a hateful woman, learns nothing and forgets nothing.

The computer can be boastful too. It will take a problem which mathematicians know would require one hundred years of time for solving, and the machine will dwell on it, and spew the correct answer in two minutes. The newer, more sophisticated machines use a conditional transfer code which has the ability to assess an assortment of conditions, reach a conclusion, and then give alternate, or optional answers to the problem.

It can estimate the work, the salary and the efficiency of an employe; it can give an army the optimum conditions in which to launch an attack; it is not too timid to tell the Pentagon how many bombers to order, what type, and how many missiles too. The machine has a snobbish quality too; it cannot be bought—it is usually leased.

One at the Federal Aviation Administration Experimental Station at Atlantic City has memorized 38,000 different problems to do with the spacing and routing of air traffic, and can be called upon to solve any of them within a second or two. It can also type instructions at the rate of 10,000 words a minute. It has a brother which can read and digest 90,000 complete documents per hour.

A few years ago, the computer was a joke. Executives asked it silly questions. Today, an insurance company can stack its millions of policy holders into one machine, and the machine will bill them properly and promptly, even though some like to pay by month, some quarterly, and some by year.

Professor Jay Forrester of M.I.T. was not satisfied having the machine make scores of thousands of correct decisions. He also wanted it to act on them. So he initiated the "feed-back" device. When the computer in a factory, for example, thinks that a bolier fire is burning low, it will not only call attention to it, the computer will also turn up the flow of oil, and as oil storage recedes, it will also order more.

The most powerful computer is Control Data's 6600, which can absorb three million instructions per second, and remember all of them. Another will accept business problems versus business goals, and will reply with "minimum" solutions and "maximum." One has simulated a bank trust officer, and, so far, the machine has never made a mistake in counselling people regarding their investments.

Another costs $7,000,000 if a company prefers to buy rather than lease. The memory sections look like 2-inch by 1½-inch sections of fiber rugs. Each unit has 16,000 tiny cores, whose business is to remember, an to render total recall instantaneously. The machine can be given a short electric shock treatment which will kill its memory. It is then ready to accept new facts, new intelligence. It never tires, and even the simplest computers can outthink, outwit, and even outguess any man.

It never has a headache, never falls in love, and never remains away from it job because of a hangover. Best of all, it never panics or becomes emotional, no matter how dire the situation. The computer is smarter than man, but not smart enough. Any baby crawling behind one of these things can unplug it . . .

OUR NATURAL TREASURE

Everybody can breathe a small sigh of relief now. The Pieta, Michelangelo's marble masterpiece of Christ and the Virgin Mary, has arrived safely at the New York World's Fair.

America thanks the Italian people who overcame their understandable fear in allowing this national treasure to be moved from its place in the Vatican for the first time since it was created 465 years ago.

America has not portable treasure to send in return, unless it is the original of the Declaration of Independence or the Constitution. Our treasures are of the land itself — "of purple mountain majesties," the "fruited plains."

We would hestitate to let the Declaration of Independence leave the country. Alas, we exhibit no such concern over our natural inheritance.

Conservationists are having to fight tooth and nail to push a bill through Congress to preserve remaining wilderness areas which are still in the public domain.

Too much of the public domain is already gone. The magnificent redwood trees—living things whose age dwarfs the four and a half centuries of the Pieta — were literally put under the ax by a thoughtless government in the 19th century for a little as $1.25 an acre.

These trees, some of which were tall when Christ was born, are being cut down at the rate of a billion board feet a year. It is predicted that within 20 years, all but a miniscule 3 per cent of virgin redwood forest under state protection will have been transformed into recreation room paneling, picnic benches and what not.

Who cares? Maybe somebody in the 21st century will. By then it will be too late.

RUNNING LIGHTS

The idea of daytime running lights for automobiles is beginning to take hold. Both common sense and a small but significant amount of experience suggest that such lights might be an important safety factor.

For the past two years, a nationwide bus line has required that headlights be on during daylight operation. This has reportedly brought a 15 per cent decrease in accidents. Although this is far from conclusive evidence, it strongly indicates that daytime lights do tend to curtail accidents.

Higher visibility is the key. A great number of accidents involve impact between a car on a high-speed highway and one emerging from an intersecting road. Many of these crashes occur because a fast-moving automobile — especially one of light color — is hard to see at a sharp angle and may suddenly appear "out of nowhere."

The flash of a running light may make the difference. Lights which turn on automatically when the car starts can be easily installed. They are no guarantee of safety, but they my be a significant protection.

WE'RE LOSING TIME

This is a somewhat belated acknowledgement of reports that the earth has been rotating more slowly the past couple of years. It seems worth noting, especially since the astronomers put their clocks back a tenth of a second on April to allow for the slower rate of spin.

A tenth of a second may seem like a fairly inconsequential fragment of time. But consider. This tenth of a second applies to everyone on earth. There are roughly three billion of us now. A statistician might say that this works out to a time loss of approximately 300 million man-seconds.

And what does 300 million man-seconds amount to? Substantially more than 83,000 hours. Which in turn is about nine and a half years. So humanity just lost nine and a half man-years. Then there's the fact that the astronomical clocks had already been set back a tenth of a second just last November. There went another nine and half man-years.

Which proves that figures can be kicked around to mean almost anything.

WHO'S A TROTSKYIST NOW?

Said Topsy to Turvy, "It's good the UN is taking hold in Cyprus to keep the Greeks and the Turks from knocking each other in the head. We'll get a rational world yet."

"Maybe we will," said Turvy to Topsy. "But consider the strange business that makes India one of the peace keepers in Cyprus when the Cypriots, or somebody else, ought to be keeping the peace in India. Have you thought about that?"

"I suppose you are alluding to the fact that the commander of the UN forces in Cyprus is an Indian, Lieutenant General Prem Singh Gyani from the Punjab? Or at least he was the commander the last time I saw the papers."

"Exactly," said Turvy. "And what beats me is why Nehru should export his peace keepers when he needs them so badly at home."

"Come to think of it," said Topsy, "India is a little bit like Cyprus. The Hindus kill the Moslems. The Moslems kill the Hindus. Just like Turkish and Greek Cypriots, only on so much grander a scale. The UN doesn't do anything about that."

"This man Nehru," said Turvy, "beats me. I remember when he was a noble, put-upon fellow. The British had him in jail. It was a terrible thing. They finally let him out, yet he kept right on talking about the need to detach India from British rule. Oh, he was a patriot, this Nehru. When he was in jail he wrote a big book about history. But what he didn't say about history is that he, Nehru, seems to be condemned to repeat it."

"How so?" asked Topsy.

"Haven't you heard of the Kashmiri leader, Sheik Mohammed Abdullah? He's been a noble, put-on fellow. Nehru clapped him into jail ten years ago. It was a terrible thing. They finally let him out, and he started to talk all over again about the need to let Kashmir vote on self-determination. Oh, he is a patriot, this Sheik Mohammed Abdullah. I haven't heard that he wrote a book in jail about history, but not everybody can be cultivated as Nehru, who was educated by the British. Or maybe the Sheik distrusts words after noticing what Nehru does to belie them."

I suppose you are referring to the fact that Nehu did not send friend Lieutenant General Prem Singh Gyani from the Punjab into the Portuguese Indian colony of Goa to keep the peace between the Goans and the invading Indians," said Topsy.

"We'll let that one pass," said Turvy. "Only I must say that what happened in Goa may have given Red China's Mao Tse-tung an idea. Could be that the Himalayas are just Goa to Mao Tse-tung."

"Speaking of Mao," said Topsy, "I see where he's been calling Khrushchev a Trotskyite. That's just what Khrushchev is now calling Mao. Khrushchev also says that Mao is guilty of Stalinism. Does this mean that Trotsky and Stalin stood for the same thing? If that is true, then if Khrushchev is a Trotskyite he's also a Stalinist. What gives with these name-callers, anyway?"

"It's this way," said Turvy. "Trotsky believed in world revolution. Stalin believed in Russia First. As the Marxists say, this makes Khrushchev objectively a Stalinist. Yet he hates the memory of Stalin. Mao loves the memory of Stalin, but he doesn't believe in Russia First. He's for the permanent world revolution. You figure it out if you can."

"I've been trying to," said Topsy. "But when Khrushchev said the Red Chinese were following a course of 'petty bourgeois adventurism'— and that's an exact quote— I lost my way completely. I know what a 'petty bourgeois' is. He's the tailor in the corner shop. He's the man who clerks in a store. Are these the sort of Chinese who would follow Mao to the ends of the earth? Or at least to the end of South Vietnam?"

"You've got me," said Turvy. "But maybe we should be thankful for small favors. Such as the fact that Casey Stengel was never exposed to the science of Marxist name-calling. Or to the historical logic of Nehru. Stengel's never got to first base in real double talk."

"Yes," said Topsy. "And maybe it's a miracle that India has just one peace-keeper available for export to Cyprus. We might have done worse."

Hemorrhoids Are Painful, But Ailment Can Be Cured

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What is the cause of hemorrhoids and what is the best treatment?

A—A hemorrhoid is an enlargement of one of the veins at the outlet of the bowel. There are two principal types. One is the small acutely inflamed hemorrhoid close to the outlet which can often be relieved by rectal suppositories.

Failing this, your doctor can make a simple incision and remove the clot. The other type is the enlargement of several veins a little higher in the rectum. This type almost always has to be removed surgically.

Factors that may cause hemorrhoids include prolonged straining at stool, pregnancy and hereditary weakness of the supporting tissues around the rectal veins.

Q—I have heard that sauerkraut juice is good for stomach ulcers. Is this true?

A—Fresh cabbage juice, not sauerkraut juice, has been used in the treatment of peptic ulcers. Some observers have reported beneficial results, but this treatment must be considered experimental. It is not a substitute for the other measures that have long been used to treat ulcers.

Q—My doctor has had me take Orinase for almost three years. My urine tests show no sugar. Should I go on taking this medicine?

A—You undoubtedly have a mild, well-controlled case of diabetes. The purpose of the tolbutamide (Orinase) is to keep the urine from showing any sugar. If your doctor is in doubt as to whether you should continue to take this drug, he will recheck your blood sugar and glucose tolerance test. He would be more likely to reduce the dose than to discontinue it. In any case it would be unwise to make any change in your routine without his recommendation.

Q—I recently pulled my hamstring muscle. My doctor recommended rest and sun-bathing followed by moderate kicking exercises. Will this cure it?

A—The treatment you received should have led to recovery by now. Some doctors advocate alternating hot and cold packs—10 or 15 minutes each for 40 to 60 minutes two or three times a day. One of the steroid hormones (cortisone group) usually speeds recovery. Care should be taken not to repeat the injury as the cure become more difficult each time it occurs in the same muscle.

Q—Would an injection of 300,000 units of penicillin be considered an overdose for a person who is allergic to it?

A—Any dose of penicillin (or any other drug) is an overdose for a person with an allergy to that drug. That is the reason you should always tell your doctor of any known drug allergies you may have.

Washington News

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — It is true, as Gen. Douglas MacArthur said, that the British government did tell the Indian government to tell the Chinese Communist government that Gen. MacArthur and the U. S.-United Nations forces in Korea would not be allowed to bomb or enter Manchuria in the drive north of the 38th parallel after the brilliant Inchon landings.

The British did this at the request of the U. S. Department of State.

This roundabout message was sent shortly before the Red Chinese entered the war as MacArthur's forces swiftly advanced northward. It was intended, say U. S. diplomats, to keep the Red Chinese out of action. It didn't.

It was known in Washington that the Red Chinese were arguing whether or not to enter the Korean conflict. Some of the top Reds said they had to come to the aid of a neighboring Communist country; they claimed there was no way out of it.

Others argued that there was a strong danger of getting into a war with the United States. They said this might mean they would have to evacuate the costal cities and some strategic areas of Manchuria.

The Chinese Reds weren't certain how much aid they would get from the Russians. Some argued they needed more time to build their strength after their takeover of mainland China.

The machine, like a hateful woman, learns nothing and forgets nothing.

The computer can be boastful too. It will take a problem which mathematicians know would require one hundred years of time for solving, and the machine will dwell on it, and spew the correct answer in two minutes. The newer, more sophisticated machines use a conditional transfer code which has the ability to assess an assortment of conditions, reach a conclusion, and then give alternate, or optional answers to the problem.

It can estimate the work, the salary and the efficiency of an employe; it can give an army the optimum conditions in which to launch an attack; it is not too timid to tell the Pentagon how many bombers to order, what type, and how many missiles too. The machine has a snobbish quality too; it cannot be bought—it is usually leased.

One at the Federal Aviation Administration Experimental Station at Atlantic City has memorized 38,000 different problems to do with the spacing and routing of air traffic, and can be called upon to solve any of them within a second or two. It can also type instructions at the rate of 10,000 words a minute. It has a brother which can read and digest 90,000 complete documents per hour.

A few years ago, the computer was a joke. Executives asked it silly questions. Today, an insurance company can stack its millions of policy holders into one machine, and the machine will bill them properly and promptly, even though some like to pay by month, some quarterly, and some by year.

Professor Jay Forrester of M.I.T. was not satisfied having the machine make scores of thousands of correct decisions. He also wanted it to act on them. So he initiated the "feed-back" device. When the computer in a factory, for example, thinks that a bolier fire is burning low, it will not only call attention to it, the computer will also turn up the flow of oil, and as oil storage recedes, it will also order more.

The most powerful computer is Control Data's 6600, which can absorb three million instructions per second, and remember all of them. Another will accept business problems versus business goals, and will reply with "minimum" solutions and "maximum." One has simulated a bank trust officer, and, so far, the machine has never made a mistake in counselling people regarding their investments.

Another costs $7,000,000 if a company prefers to buy rather than lease. The memory sections look like 2-inch by 1½-inch sections of fiber rugs. Each unit has 16,000 tiny cores, whose business is to remember, an to render total recall instantaneously. The machine can be given a short electric shock treatment which will kill its memory. It is then ready to accept new facts, new intelligence. It never tires, and even the simplest computers can outthink, outwit, and even outguess any man.

It never has a headache, never falls in love, and never remains away from it job because of a hangover. Best of all, it never panics or becomes emotional, no matter how dire the situation. The computer is smarter than man, but not smart enough. Any baby crawling behind one of these things can unplug it . . .

Must Attend Clinic For Fake Radio Appeal

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A man who touched off a major search by faking a radio appeal for help for a downed plane has been sentenced to three years on probation and ordered to attend a psychiatric clinic.

James F. Billion of Syracuse had pleaded guilty March 19 to a charge of disorderly conduct. He was sentenced Thursday by Justice of the Peace Richard E. Burnham.

The phony distress signals were sent March 5 from the radio transmitter of a charter air service, which employed Billion part-time.

Planes and ground parties searched the Oneida Lake area for a plane carrying four persons, one of them said to be a pregnant woman close to term. The plane was supposed to have made an emergency landing.

The search turned up on evidence of such a plane and State Police arrested Billion later the same day. They said he signed a statement admitting he made the fake calls after an evening of heavy drinking.

Calls Newspapers Too Sensitive to Public Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Before a critical audience of newspaper editors, a critic of the newspapers criticized today newspapers' sensitivity to criticism.

Writer Ben H. Bagdikian, in a talk prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, suggested that:

"The press ought to lower its threshold of righteous indignation at the idea of outside criticism and disinterested study, and mend what is largely a zone of silence in the news columns about basic problems of the press.

"The idea of expose, complaint and reform is built into the heart of American newspapering—when it is applied to others.

"Papers ought to resign themselves to this same therapy for themselves. And to the fact that they are no more entitled to select their critics than are politicians or playwrights."

Bagdikian, a Saturday Evening Post writer and former staff member of the Providence (R.I.) Journal, told of rebuffs and frustrations in trying to obtain from newspaper publishers data on what it costs to produce a good newspaper, for a study financed by the Guggenheim Foundation.

One newspaper group refused, he said, because of his frequently critical writings on the press. This group mentioned specifically a humorous Bagdikian article on unfunny comic strips entitled, "Don't Laugh, It's The Funnies."

Rusk to Viet:

Must Teach Reds To Leave Their Neighbors Alone

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam "will have peace when Hanoi and Peking have been taught to leave their neighbors alone," U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a welcoming crowd of 600 at Saigon airport today.

"You and those of us who are at your side must defeat their effort to impose their own misery upon you," Rusk said. "That this will be done I have not the slightest doubt, and I am here to make clear once again that we shall help you do it."

Rusk's visit, first to South Viet Nam by an American secretary of state in office, brought Saigon the tightest security arrangements ever imposed for an official American visit. The capital's normally bustling main streets were deserted except for police spaced at close intervals as the motorcade swept through to the American Embassy.

During his two-day visit Rusk was to meet South Viet Nam's premier, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, confer with American officials and take a one-day field trip into the Mekong Delta for a look at the war against the Communist Viet Cong. He leaves for Washington Sunday.

Local Car Dealer Commended for Safety Program

A gold seal of commendation has been awarded by the Automobile Club of New York to a local auto agency in recognition of its conrtibutions to the high school driver education program during the 1963-64 school year.

In a letter to J. Howard Byrne, president of the J. H. Byrne Chevrolet Corp., Charles J. Murphy, the auto club's director of traffic engineering and safety praised the dealer for its "outstanding community service" in providing a new Chevrolet dual control training car for use by students enrolled in the driver education course at Onteora. This participation, he said, will go a long way in helping reduce accidents on the highway.

This is the sixth consecutive year that the dealer has made a car available on loan to the school.

The high school driver education program pioneered by the AAA since 1936, offers both behind the wheel and classroom instruction to teenagers. This year, more than 12,000 high schools in the country are training some 1,333,000.

Suski was picked up Thursday on a warrant charging he had issued a check at Pantry Market, Town of Esopus. The warrant was executed by County Investigator Thomas Mayone and after the check was made good the charge was dismissed.

Buick has a great transmission.

An automobile transmission, we grant you, isn't the most soul-stirring subject on earth. Nothing to look at either.

But if you'd like for your next new car to give you a better break on performance and gasoline mileage, something happened last week to be your guide.

The Los Angeles to New York Mobil Economy Run proved one thing for sure. There's quite a difference in the transmission of new cars.

Three out of four for Buick

The long-time champion in the transmission league—Buick—walked off with the 1964 economy pennant. No other single make of car won as many events as Buick. Four entries, three winners.

The winning Specials carried the new Super Turbine 300 automatic transmission; the LeSabre was equipped with the Super Turbine 400 (both optional at extra cost). They're the latest in a long line of Buick transmissions well known for their smoothness and absence of "shift feel". The Super Turbine is a refined and improved torque converter type to help you safely pass cars and trucks as well as gas stations. You'll hear a lot about it in the next couple of years as this modern kind of transmission is adopted by more and more car builders.

What about engines?

Of course, an efficient transmission gets more efficient when teamed up with a lean, agile engine. The winning Buick power plants were our new V-6 and V-8.

The 300 cubic inch V-8 is the winning Buick Special (the lowest priced of all Buicks) and the Buick LeSabre (the lowest priced big Buick) is like a well-conditioned fighter. All muscle, no fat. Weighs in at far less than other V-8's of similar punch. It took every other V-8 in the Economy Run.

Your type of driving—regular gas

The Run was through cities and towns, across super highways, in traffic, out of traffic. This was not race track driving or proving ground driving. This was your kind of driving—even though you can't expect to get as good mileage as these expert drivers in their finely tuned production cars.

The distance was 3,243 miles, about what most families log in four months. All three Buicks used regular gas.

So the Economy Run is not just a cross country tour for the Mobil people and a few car buffs. It's a reliable test of a car's power team and what it's able to squeeze out of its fuel.

We don't expect everybody to rush out this week-end to buy a new Buick just because we won a few economy trophies.

There are so many other good reasons for leaning to Buick that economy usually gets second billing. There's styling, naturally. An unusually great ride. Extraordinary engineering and workmanship. And very young performance. Small wonder Buick sales are running at 11.5% over last year.

But it's nice to get economy as a plus in a Buick. Beyond the dollars saved on gasoline, there's a certain pride in knowing you have a car that's built to get the most out of every tank of gasoline.

Library Exchange Helps Students in Various Sectors

Through the Mid-Hudson Libraries, Kingston City Library actually offers the public more than its own collection of 24,000 books. During this week, which is National Library Week, Mrs. Anne Prentice, director of Kingston City Library said, "Mid-Hudson Libraries extends our collection to include every book in the country for those doing serious study."

Mid-Hudson Libraries is a cooperative organization of public libraries in Columbia, Dutchess, Greene, Putnam and Ulster Counties. It offers to its member libraries the following services: Book loan, inter-library loans, reference, central purchasing and processing, central storage, consultant services, rotating collections, workshops for librarians and trustees, promotion and publicity aids, weekly delivery and pick-up service and union catalog.

The Kingston City Library makes approximately 15 to 20 requests each week to Mid-Hudson Libraries for books not in its own collection.

The hours at the library are 10:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m., Monday through Friday, and 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. Saturday. Average circulation is 3,600 books monthly.

In recognition of National Library Week, the League of Women Voters of Kingston encourages the public to acquaint itself with the services of the library and to visit the League's Library display at 324 Wall Street

New Phone Directories Tell About World's Fair

New York Telephone has just published a timely book for its customers in Kingston.

Its the new Kingston telephone directory containing special information about the World's Fair, which opens Wednesday, April 21.

G. A. Johnson, company manager said distribution of 29,850 copies of the new phone book began today and will last about a week.

A guide to the fair can be found on the last page of the Yellow Pages section. Listed is such information as World's Fair dates and highlights, a phone number to call for up-to-the-minute information, how to get to the Flushing Meadows fairgrounds after reaching New York City, parking accommodations and transportation at the fair. It also tells about the new Touch-Tone telephones — the push-button phones of the future —which have been installed at the fairgrounds.

The slate gray cover of the new directory features an illustration of the Bell System's "floating wing" building.

Highlight of the exhibit is a "chairborne" tour of scenes that tell the dramatic tom-tom to Telstars story of communications.

Visitors also will tour exhibits of telephone communications past, present and future and even use the experimental "videotelephone," which lets you see the person you're talking to.

Johnson sasid the introductory white pages of the new phone book contain a wealth of telephone information, including details about dialing local and long distance calls, area codes for many communities across the country, typical long distance rates and other information.

The new phone book has 28,000 listings in the white pages, a slight increase over last year, and some 6,300 listings in the Yellow Pages, also an increase over 1963.

For anyone interested in learning more about the World's Fair, manager Johnson said New York Telephone has a new half hour talk, illustrated by color slides, for presentation to schools, churches and civic groups. The talks can be arranged by calling the telephone company business office.

Council on Crime

Editor, The Freeman

How can this community rescue delinquent and neglected children from their downhill plunge.

I have talked with over 40 specialists in Kingston and the Citizens of Kingston National Council on Crimes and Delinquency will meet May 4 at 7 p. m. in the Community Center, 97 Broadway to formulate plans to see what can be done to prevent crime and delinquency.

Americans now commit more than four crimes a minute. Arrests of children under 18 are increasing at more than twice the rate of population growth. Stolen property charges against juveniles rose 105 per cent in the last five years and there is an auto theft every two minutes.

I am sure with God's help we can do something about it.

Light for the darkness in the American scene. The National Council advocates modern prevention treatment and control:

Your community needs a special police youth bureau.

Your community needs a full-time juvenile court judge.

Your community needs a good probation staff.

Your community needs psychiatric and psychological services for the court.

Your community needs shelter care for dependent and neglected children.

Your community needs foster homes for neglected children.

Your community needs family service agencies.

Your community needs special facilities for mentally defective and disturbed children.

Your community needs training schools that re-educate.

The youth fellowship will meet from 7 to 8:30 p. m. Sunday evening in the parish hall. Leaders for the evening program will be Richard Snyder and Roy Welton.

At 8 p. m. Sunday a class for adults who are interested in church membership or who are interested in a study of the basic affirmations of the Christian faith will meet in the chapel. The class will be lead by the pastor and all persons interested may attend.

Wednesday, April 22, the Women's Guild for Christian Service will entertain the Classical Union of Ulster. This group comprises all of the Reformed Churches of Ulster County. They will meet from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. in the church with the ladies of the Guild serving lunch at 12 Noon. All ladies planning to attend should notify Mrs. Lindley Gould or Mrs. John DeGroff by April 18. Speakers at the Classical Union will inform the group of some of the major missions of the Reformed Church of America.

The choir will rehearse at their usual time of 7:15 p. m. Thursday in the parish hall.

Council on Crime

Editor, The Freeman

How can this community rescue delinquent and neglected children from their downhill plunge.

I have talked with over 40 specialists in Kingston and the Citizens of Kingston National Council on Crimes and Delinquency will meet May 4 at 7 p. m. in the Community Center, 97 Broadway to formulate plans to see what can be done to prevent crime and delinquency.

Americans now commit more than four crimes a minute. Arrests of children under 18 are increasing at more than twice the rate of population growth. Stolen property charges against juveniles rose 105 per cent in the last five years and there is an auto theft every two minutes.

I am sure with God's help we can do something about it.

Light for the darkness in the American scene. The National Council advocates modern prevention treatment and control:

Your community needs a special police youth bureau.

Your community needs a full-time juvenile court judge.

Your community needs a good probation staff.

Your community needs psychiatric and psychological services for the court.

Your community needs shelter care for dependent and neglected children.

Your community needs foster homes for neglected children.

Your community needs family service agencies.

Your community needs special facilities for mentally defective and disturbed children.

Your community needs training schools that re-educate.

Capitol News in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

BIG BOMB: The Pentagon's top scientist—Dr. Harold Brown—has taken issue with Air Force chief of staff Gen. Curtis E. LeMay's call for a 100-megaton bomb.

"It does not seem at this time to make sense to do such a development," Dr. Brown said in secret testimony to a House Appropriations subcommittee that was released Thursday. LeMay has told Congress frequently that the United States needs such a bomb.

Brown, Department of Defense director of research, said "there is no question that the bombs we have now will destroy the biggest cities in the world."

MORSE-VIET NAM: The Senate's most persistent critic of U.S. policy in South Viet Nam, Oregon's Wayne Morse, has accused the nation's "Pravda-like press" of doing a "cover-up" job on facts about the situation there.

In a 46-minute Senate speech Thursday night, the Oregon Democrat made his daily demand for removal of U.S. troops from South Viet Nam to stop what he termed "the unjustified killing of American boys" in the Southeast Asian nation.

Noting that the American Society of Newspaper Editors So-meeting this week in Washington, Morse said:

"If the Pravda-like press in this country really started giving the American people the facts" and stopped what he called a "cover up," the people would "vote 5 to 1 to get out of South Viet Nam now."

The United States has no more right being in South Viet Nam, Morse said, than the Soviet Union has being in East Germany.

NANCY: A 20-year-old cancer victim, bedridden for 10 years, toured Washington Thursday and met Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson on the White House south lawn.

Nancy Martin of Lewiston, Maine, was told 10 years ago she was suffering from cancer of the spine and had six months to live. Although she has been in a nursing home for six years and can sit only for brief periods, she is due to graduate from Lewiston High School this June.

In a brief visit, the First Lady chatted with Miss Martin and her family about life in the White House.

Mrs. Johnson gave Miss Martin a personally inscribed etching of the White House to take home.

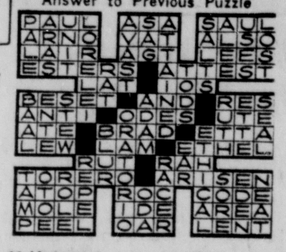

A special plane flew Miss Martin here, and she toured Washington on a stretcher in a specially equipped ambulance. Her mother, Mrs. Napolean St. Hilaire, and her 13-year-old half brother, Dennis, accompanied her.

The festivities will culminate in a big rally in Havana Sunday night.

There also will be a military parade Sunday on the beach at Playa Giron, where 1,197 survivors of the invasion force were captured after three days of fighting. Most were released in December 1962 in return for $53 - million worth of food and medicine from the United States.

Skyline Drive Is To Be Topic at April 20 Session

A discussion of the proposed Skyline Drive Study is scheduled at an open meeting at 8 p. m. on Monday, April 20, in the Patroon Grange on Route 209, Accord, it was announced today.

Six Speakers Scheduled

Amy Hirsch, secretary of the Town of Rochester Planning Board, said that six qualified speakers will appear at the meeting. They include Supervisor George Barthel, Town of Wawarsing; Deyo W. Johnson, of Ellenville, chairman of the Ellenville and Ulster County planning boards, respectively; Albert E. Milliken, Kingston architect; Kenneth B. Phillips, president of the Lake Minnewaska Houses and Daniel and Gerow Smiley of Mohonk Lake Mountain House.

Meanwhile, the Town of Rochester Planning Board, at its regular meeting in the Accord Fire Hall, announced that a tentative meeting between representatives of the New York State Department and the town boards of Rochester, Marbletown and Warwarsing and the Rochester and Marbletown planning boards on May 11 could not be made because of the inability of the state to provide a representative on that date. An alternate date of June 8 was discussed, but local planning board members felt that that date would be unsatisfactory because farmers and resort owners would be in the midst of their busy season. The Rochester Planning Board sent a letter to the Commerce Department indicating that they would be glad to meet with any other state representative.

Would Be Up to Board

Work on land subdivision controls was continued It was brought out that if a subdivider agreed to provide a water supply, put in sewers, pipe oil to homes, etc., and then failed to do so, the town board would be responsible for supplying these promised improvements. A performance bond, of a type acceptable to the town board must therefore be included in the land subdivision controls. It was agreed that when the sections on roads, markers, widths of right-of-way, intersections, etc. are written up, consultation would be had with the Town Board and the Superintendent of Highways.

John Scribiano, Planning Board chairman, conducted the meeting.

Talk Defense System

LONDON (AP) — The United States and Britain are negotiating for the sale of a complete air defense system to Saudi Arabia, including jet fighters, surface-to-air missiles and radar and communication equipment.

Diplomatic sources say the Saudis became acutely aware of a need to strengthen their defenses because of the intervention of the United Arab Republic in neighboring Yemen. The Saudis charged Egyptian air intrusions.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Danny Kaye, who made an off-hand reference to a leg injury on his CBS Wednesday night show, actually had a serious accident.

Kaye was making spaghetti for a party of 15 at his home 10 days ago when a pot of boiling water spilled over his right leg and foot. Foot and leg swelled into an enormous, intensely painful blister that put him in bed for five days.

CBS executives urged Danny to rerun an earlier program this week but the comedian was determined not to skip a show. He devised and rehearsed Wednesday's entire show around a specially constructed wheelchair. His injured leg was propped up and surrounded by a protective cage.

Danny, throughout the program, was seen only in closeup—never below the waist and never moving around. And it was still a swell show.

"If it goes well," he cracked earlier, "maybe we should do them all sitting down."

It will be, in fact, at least another six weeks before Kaye can do a show on his foot, and he is still in considerable pain. But the show is going on.

Art Carney will be seen in a serious role Sunday night in NBC's "A Day Like Today," playing a man looking back over what he believes was his last day on earth after taking a dose of poison by accident.

In spite of frequent serious parts, Carney still is closely identified with comedy.

"We only made 39 of 'The Honeymooners,'" he said. "But they are still playing around on reruns. Kids, who weren't old enough to see the originals, invariably recognize me as Ed Norton, the sewer worker."

Ducks in Bush Are Birdies

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If you are acquainted with duck plays, see if you can recognize all the ducks waddling around in today's hand.

You are in a rather normal three no-trump contract. After West opens the five of spades, you see 10 easy tricks if the club finesse works. You also see nine sure tricks if the spades are 4-4, but if West has five or six spades you have problems.

So, even though your first impulse was to go up with dummy's queen of spades, you restrain yourself and play low. East plays the jack and you must duck in your hand also.

East leads back the nine of spades and in the event that West had led from a six card suit your troubles are over. Even though you lose the club finesse East would not have a spade to lead to his partner.

Actually West led from a five card spade suit. Now, if he ducks East will have a spade to lead back later and South will go down.

It is is easy for us to see that West should duck. We are looking at all the cards. At the table West should duck also, but he might decide to go up, clear the suit and trust that one of his red queens would furnish an entry for the last two spades.

HAVANA (AP) — The Castro regime launched three days of public celebrations and military parades today to mark the third anniversary of the Bay of Pigs invasion.

The festivities will culminate in a big rally in Havana Sunday night.

There also will be a military parade Sunday on the beach at Playa Giron, where 1,197 survivors of the invasion force were captured after three days of fighting. Most were released in December 1962 in return for $53 - million worth of food and medicine from the United States.

Skyline Drive Is To Be Topic at April 20 Session

A discussion of the proposed Skyline Drive Study is scheduled at an open meeting at 8 p. m. on Monday, April 20, in the Patroon Grange on Route 209, Accord, it was announced today.

Six Speakers Scheduled

Amy Hirsch, secretary of the Town of Rochester Planning Board, said that six qualified speakers will appear at the meeting. They include Supervisor George Barthel, Town of Wawarsing; Deyo W. Johnson, of Ellenville, chairman of the Ellenville and Ulster County planning boards, respectively; Albert E. Milliken, Kingston architect; Kenneth B. Phillips, president of the Lake Minnewaska Houses and Daniel and Gerow Smiley of Mohonk Lake Mountain House.

Meanwhile, the Town of Rochester Planning Board, at its regular meeting in the Accord Fire Hall, announced that a tentative meeting between representatives of the New York State Department and the town boards of Rochester, Marbletown and Warwarsing and the Rochester and Marbletown planning boards on May 11 could not be made because of the inability of the state to provide a representative on that date. An alternate date of June 8 was discussed, but local planning board members felt that that date would be unsatisfactory because farmers and resort owners would be in the midst of their busy season. The Rochester Planning Board sent a letter to the Commerce Department indicating that they would be glad to meet with any other state representative.

Would Be Up to Board

Work on land subdivision controls was continued It was brought out that if a subdivider agreed to provide a water supply, put in sewers, pipe oil to homes, etc., and then failed to do so, the town board would be responsible for supplying these promised improvements. A performance bond, of a type acceptable to the town board must therefore be included in the land subdivision controls. It was agreed that when the sections on roads, markers, widths of right-of-way, intersections, etc. are written up, consultation would be had with the Town Board and the Superintendent of Highways.

John Scribiano, Planning Board chairman, conducted the meeting.

Talk Defense System

LONDON (AP) — The United States and Britain are negotiating for the sale of a complete air defense system to Saudi Arabia, including jet fighters, surface-to-air missiles and radar and communication equipment.

Diplomatic sources say the Saudis became acutely aware of a need to strengthen their defenses because of the intervention of the United Arab Republic in neighboring Yemen. The Saudis charged Egyptian air intrusions.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Danny Kaye, who made an off-hand reference to a leg injury on his CBS Wednesday night show, actually had a serious accident.

Kaye was making spaghetti for a party of 15 at his home 10 days ago when a pot of boiling water spilled over his right leg and foot. Foot and leg swelled into an enormous, intensely painful blister that put him in bed for five days.

CBS executives urged Danny to rerun an earlier program this week but the comedian was determined not to skip a show. He devised and rehearsed Wednesday's entire show around a specially constructed wheelchair. His injured leg was propped up and surrounded by a protective cage.

Danny, throughout the program, was seen only in closeup—never below the waist and never moving around. And it was still a swell show.

"If it goes well," he cracked earlier, "maybe we should do them all sitting down."

It will be, in fact, at least another six weeks before Kaye can do a show on his foot, and he is still in considerable pain. But the show is going on.

Art Carney will be seen in a serious role Sunday night in NBC's "A Day Like Today," playing a man looking back over what he believes was his last day on earth after taking a dose of poison by accident.

In spite of frequent serious parts, Carney still is closely identified with comedy.

"We only made 39 of 'The Honeymooners,'" he said. "But they are still playing arcund on reruns. Kids, who weren't old enough to see the originals, invariably recognize me as Ed Norton, the sewer worker."

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — U.N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche said today he is "very much encouraged" by guarantees from Indian and Pakistani officials to make the U.N. mission in Kashmir effective.

Bunche flew to Kashmir to study ways of improving the work of the 40-man U.N. group policing the cease-fire line between the Indian and Pakistani portions of Kashmir. Bunche is seeking ways to stop recurring violations of the truce which have cost many lives on both sides.

Ducks in Bush Are Birdies

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If you are acquainted with duck plays, see if you can recognize all the ducks waddling around in today's hand.

You are in a rather normal three no-trump contract. After West opens the five of spades, you see 10 easy tricks if the club finesse works. You also see nine sure tricks if the spades are 4-4, but if West has five or six spades you have problems.

So, even though your first impulse was to go up with dummy's queen of spades, you restrain yourself and play low. East plays the jack and you must duck in your hand also.

East leads back the nine of spades and in the event that West had led from a six card suit your troubles are over. Even though you lose the club finesse East would not have a spade to lead to his partner.

Actually West led from a five card spade suit. Now, if he ducks East will have a spade to lead back later and South will go down.

It is is easy for us to see that West should duck. We are looking at all the cards. At the table West should duck also, but he might decide to go up, clear the suit and trust that one of his red queens would furnish an entry for the last two spades.

Filing Deadline For OCS Board Slated April 22

With the deadline for filing nominating petitions set for April 22, four candidates will vie for three posts on the Onteora Board of Education at the May election, according to petitions now being circulated in the district.

Richard O. Langham, Woodstock business man, has announced his intention of seeking the five-year post to be vacated by Mrs. Ann Larys of Woodstock. Mrs. Larys said today that she will not seek reelection.

A two-way contest is shaping up in the West Hurley area for the five-year post now held by Arthur P. Knight, who is not a candidate for re-election.

Petitions are being circulated in West Hurley in behalf of Dr. Sherman Masten, dean of the Ulster County Community College and resident of West Hurley; and James Hogan.

Herbert Epstein of Phoenicia, who is serving an unexpired term by appointment, will seek a full three-year term, it was learned.

Rules on Petitions

Designating petitions must bear 25 signatures of residents within the Onteora Central Schools District. Candidates must also indicate for what spot they are filing, whether a five or three year term, and name the incumbent.

Registration for the annual elections and meeting in May will be held on April 30 from 2 p. m. to 8 p. m.

In announcing his decision not to seek re-election, Trustee Knight said he favored greater participation on the board by residents of the district and felt that a five-year term was sufficent for any person. He noted that much had been accomplished by the board during his term and the difficut phase of OCS expansion had passed, particularly in the elementary area.

Issue To Be Faced

A vigorous board member noted for his firm stand on issues, Trustee Knight reflected on the defeat of the recent high school bond issue. He said he felt the timing may have been a factor that mitigated against the bond issue, since district residents have not yet received tax bills for the last successful elementary bond issue.

The issue of high school construction must be faced sooner or later, Knight said, and it is just a matter of time. He said he also favored re-submitting the high school bond issue at the earliest feasible date.

Mrs. Larys, who is also completing a five year term, reiterated Trustee Knight's philosophy about a single term. She said there was much to be gained by the addition of a variety of people to the board, adding that new members add excitement and ability to the board and are a deterrent to static thinking.

Woodstock Has Done It Again

The 1964 Red Cross fund drive in Woodstock has gone over the top, town chairman Mrs. Ben L. Webster announced today. The drive officially ended on April 15 and local workers by then had accounted for more than the $1,411 quota set for the township.

All reports are not yet in and complete, final returns are expected to send the Woodstock total 10 to 15 per cent over the quota, Mrs. Webster said.

The town chairman noted that the campaign goal was exceeded in spite of other drives in the Woodstock area. She said the reason for the success of the drive was "the pride of Woodstockers." Mrs. Webster had high praise for the group of 60 workers who participated in the drive. She made special mention of the contribution of the Rotron staff which assisted her in setting up the various window exhibits at the Bank of Orange County.

Final Woodstock returns will be announced next week.

League Reports Second Phase of Apportionment

The second important basis of apportionment for legislatures is sub-division of the state. This method, too, was investigated by the members of the Woodstock League of Women Voters.

The subdivision may be geographical or historical in nature. States may have sparcely populated areas comprised of valuable farms, ranches, mines, etc. that contribute heavily to state Revenue. This, then, could be taken into consideration when subdivision lines are drawn. County lines and town lines are also used in subdividing a state. Of these two, the most popular is the use of county lines. However, in New England, town boundaries often serve as the boundary for legislative districts. For instance, Vermont's lower house is made up of one member from each of it's inhabited towns. This makes for rather large Assemblies, often around 400 members.

Disparities Occurs

All of these, though geographic or historic in nature, generally become political subdivisions since each usually guarantees at least one representative in at least one house of the legislature. In the use of subdivision population disparities do occur. Some states have developed rather unique methods designed to reduce their disparities. Texas, for example attaches surplus population to an adjoining county to form what is called a flotorial district.

Ohio and New Hampshire permit the sending of a legislator to the state capitol for that portion of the time between apportionment that the jurisdiction's population equals 1/5 of the state ratio. To break that down into more understandable language, assume that a county in Ohio has a population of 140,000 and the state-wide ratio for the legislative body was one representative for each 100,000 people, the county would be entitled to one fulltime representative to attend only two of the five legislative sessions between apportionments.

Fiscal Factor

A third and not very popular method of apportionment is the use of the fiscal or economic factor. The only state using this method is New Hampshire. It's State Senate is apportioned according to "direct taxes" paid. It is interesting to note that their apportionment by this method just happens to be very similar to what it would be if apportioned by population.

Actually, in our country today, many of the apportionment formulas are a combination or modification of one or more of these methods.

Twain Comments Still Pertinent

"I wish I had the human race in the Ark again—with an augur." Such a salty comment is typical of the sententious words of Mark Twain's which Hal Holbrook uses to create genuine merriment among audiences when he appears in the guise of Samuel L. Clemens in his successful one-man show, "Mark Twain Tonight", which will be seen at Onteora Central School on Monday, April 20, 8:30 p. m.

Holbrook is coming to this area under the sponsorship of the Onteora District Arts Council, in cooperation with the New York State Council on the Arts.

Tickets may be obtained from the following: Bill Landesman, Kingston; Peter Rakov, Ginger Anderson, Anderson's Hardware, Catskill Book and Record Shop, Woodstock; Sam and Alice Friedman, Ashokan; Wes John, West Shokan; Earl Friant and Ruth Landesman, Phoenicia; Joy Connaughton, Krumville and Onteora Central School; Dudy's General Store, Pine Hill; Stuart Messenger and Mrs. James Levins, West Hurley. Mail orders will be filled if a check in the exact amount is sent to the Onteora District Arts Council, care of Mrs. Gordon Anderson, Woodstock. Tickets not sold by Monday will be sold at the box office.

Timely As Ever

Twain is as timely today as he ever was — perhaps more so, according to Holbrook, who cites such examples of topical opinion as the following: "And, so, by the Providence of God — the phrase if the government's, not mine — we are a World Power; and are glad and proud, and have a back seat in the family. With tacks in it.. At least we are letting on to be glad and proud, it is the best way. We must maintain our dignity, for people are looking."

People, Holbrook finds, are still susceptible to barbed wit aimed at their own foibles and those of such popular targets as government, business and reformers. These were, of course, subjects with which Twain dealt masterfully.

"Somebody writing a piece in one of the cities I visited mentioned that "the national sense of humor seems to be loosening up again — which is a good thing'," Holbrook recalls, "but it seems to me that the words of Mark Twain have always been with us and have always evoked a sort of laughter that augurs well for the sanity and preservation of the things we really care about. I don't see any new signs of an American sense of humor. It has always existed and required only stimulation to be manifested."

Bennett P-TA Sets Fair Trip

Plans for a bus trip to the New York World's Fair on May 23 were announced by the executive board of the Reginald Bennett P-TA this week.

The P-TA sponsored bus trip would leave the Village Green in Woodstock and the parking lot at the Onteora Central school at 7 a. m. The return trip would leave the fair grounds at 10 p. m. thereby assuring a full day at the fair.

Reservations for the trip may be made by contacting Mrs. Ruth Bark at the Bennett school in Boiceville on or before May 15. The public is invited to participate in the trip.

In other business, P-TA president Velma Grazier reminded everyone that Tuesday, May 12, is Teacher Recognition Day. She also reminded that Saturday, May 16, is the date for kindergarten registration.

Seek Used Clothing

Mrs. Ruth Bark, nurse of the Bennett school health department, asked that the P-TA make a public request for all kinds of good usable clothing, sneakers and shoes for sizes kindergarten through the sixth grade. Persons wishing to contribute such items are asked to contact Mrs. Bark or leave them in the health department office at the Bennett school.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Bennett P-TA will be held Tuesday, April 21, at 7:30 p. m. in the Bennett school. Highlights of the evening include the election of officers for the 1964-65 school year, and art show and band concert by the students. The public is invited.

Dear Abby . . .

What's in a Name?

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The woman who was "DISGUSTED" because her son and his wife named their little boy "HARRY" after having named their first two boys "TOM" and "DICK" apparently has never heard of the famous BYRD brothers of Virginia. TOM was a very successful fruit farmer and businessman who looked after his family's interests. "DICK" was none other than the famous explorer, ADMIRAL BYRD of South Pole fame. And "HARRY" has been a United States Senator for many years.

PROUD VIRGINIAN

DEAR ABBY: What's wrong with naming three sons TOM, DICK and HARRY? I named our first son Dick. The second boy I named after his father, whose name was Harry. Then everyone kept asking me, "Where's Tom?" So, when we had our third son, "That settles it. There's Tom!" I can't see where there was anything "disgraceful" about it.

MRS. H. H., SKANEATLES, N. Y.

• • • •

MOLLY IN BALTIMORE

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: Speaking of inflicting peculiar names on helpless infants, my cousin in Birmingham named her daughters, DAISY, PETUNIA, GLADIOLA and ZINNIA. The next time she expected a baby, she was all set to add another flower to her garden of girls, but the baby was a boy. It didn't stop her. She went ahead and named him IRIS. How do you like that?

WILLIE MAE IN MONTGOMERY

DEAR WILLIE: The boy was lucky she didn't name him PANSY.

• • • •

LOVING GRANDMOTHER

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: Twenty-four years ago I married a man named Harry. He had two brothers whose names were Tom and Dick. Tell "Disgusted" not to worry. If her son's boys turn out to be half as wonderful as these three boys, she will be lucky.

Bennett P-TA Sets Fair Trip

Plans for a bus trip to the New York World's Fair on May 23 were announced by the executive board of the Reginald Bennett P-TA this week.

The P-TA sponsored bus trip would leave the Village Green in Woodstock and the parking lot at the Onteora Central school at 7 a. m. The return trip would leave the fair grounds at 10 p. m. thereby assuring a full day at the fair.

Reservations for the trip may be made by contacting Mrs. Ruth Bark at the Bennett school in Boiceville on or before May 15. The public is invited to participate in the trip.

In other business, P-TA president Velma Grazier reminded everyone that Tuesday, May 12, is Teacher Recognition Day. She also reminded that Saturday, May 16, is the date for kindergarten registration.

Seek Used Clothing

Mrs. Ruth Bark, nurse of the Bennett school health department, asked that the P-TA make a public request for all kinds of good usable clothing, sneakers and shoes for sizes kindergarten through the sixth grade. Persons wishing to contribute such items are asked to contact Mrs. Bark or leave them in the health department office at the Bennett school.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Bennett P-TA will be held Tuesday, April 21, at 7:30 p. m. in the Bennett school. Highlights of the evening include the election of officers for the 1964-65 school year, and art show and band concert by the students. The public is invited.

Dear Abby . . .

What's in a Name?

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The woman who was "DISGUSTED" because her son and his wife named their little boy "HARRY" after having named their first two boys "TOM" and "DICK" apparently has never heard of the famous BYRD brothers of Virginia. TOM was a very successful fruit farmer and businessman who looked after his family's interests. "DICK" was none other than the famous explorer, ADMIRAL BYRD of South Pole fame. And "HARRY" has been a United States Senator for many years.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: What's wrong with naming three sons TOM, DICK and HARRY? I named our first son Dick. The second boy I named after his father, whose name was Harry. Then everyone kept asking me, "Where's Tom?" So, when we had our third son, "That settles it. There's Tom!" I can't see where there was anything "disgraceful" about it.

MRS. H. H., SKANEATLES, N. Y.

• • • •

MOLLY IN BALTIMORE

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: Speaking of inflicting peculiar names on helpless infants, my cousin in Birmingham named her daughters, DAISY, PETUNIA, GLADIOLA and ZINNIA. The next time she expected a baby, she was all set to add another flower to her garden of girls, but the baby was a boy. It didn't stop her. She went ahead and named him IRIS. How do you like that?

WILLIE MAE IN MONTGOMERY

DEAR WILLIE: The boy was lucky she didn't name him PANSY.

• • • •

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: Twenty-four years ago I married a man named Harry. He had two brothers whose names were Tom and Dick. Tell "Disgusted" not to worry. If her son's boys turn out to be half as wonderful as these three boys, she will be lucky.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, April 17, the 108th day of 1964. There are 258 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1790, Benjamin Franklin died in Philadelphia at the age of 84.

On this date:

In 1754, French forces captured the junction of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers.

In 1861, the State of Virginia seceded from the Union.

In 1941, the army of Yugoslavia surrendered to the Nazis.

In 1944, United States bombers attacked Sofia, Bulgaria and Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

In 1945, the United States announced the Japanese had lost more than 200 planes in a single day of suicide attacks over Okinawa.

Ten years ago—Former President Herbert Hoover declared that inflation in the United States had not been stopped and would not be until there was an end to deficit spending.

Five years ago — Twenty-six persons were killed when a Mexican C46 aircraft exploded over Guayamas, Mexico.

One year ago—Egypt, Syria and Iraq signed a communique outlining the structure of the new United Arab Republic.

Not Same as Greece

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Basilios Yonnonlis, 26, an exchange student from Greece, has learned his lesson.

A charge of turning in a false fire alarm was dismissed against him Thursday. He said he pulled the alarm signal April 5 only to light his pipe.

He explained that in Greece fire alarm boxes also provide flints and matches for lighting cigarettes and pipes.

21 More at Actors

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty-one new members have been added to the roster of Actors Studio, the largest group ever admitted at one time. Cheryl Crawford, one of the directors, said the cause was a sudden abundance of candidates. There were a thousand applications during the past year. Previously about four newcomers have been accepted annually. Among the established players joining are Celeste Holm, Betsy Palmer, Tina Louise.

NEW YORK (AP) — Better than usual is becoming the standard term in most government reports on how the economy is behaving this spring. There are a few laggards but most measures of business growth show gains above average for the season.

Profits Rising

Profits are rising. Jobs are increasing in number and paying more to many workers. Factories are turning out more goods. Consumers are buying them. So stocks aren't piling up in manufacturers' and distributors' hands as they would if the economic upswing were topping out.

The Federal Reserve Board's industrial production index has registered its biggest gain since last October. It is at a record peak of 128.2 per cent of the 1957-59 average, for a neat one-half point rise since February.

Jobs in manufacturing normally remain unchanged between February and March, but this time rose 49,000 to some 17,033,000. Almost all of the gain was in the durable goods industries. This is hailed as much as an expression of confidence of the type that tends to snowball as a response to firm orders.

And the durables turned in the best performance in pushing the industrial index higher, with the business equipment companies stepping up output the most.

Jobless Rate Holds

Counting in jobs outside manufacturing, the total rose 515,000 in the latest month, against an average of 66,000 for that time of year. In mid-March the total was 68,517,000. Unemployment fell 231,000 to 4,293,000. But the increasing size of the labor force kept the jobless rate at 5.4 per cent.

Durable goods employment is now back to where it was in August 1957 before increasing mechanization of factories and the 1960 recession aggravated the problem.

Construction also rose more in March than is usual. The average increase from February is 7 per cent. But this year the gain was 9 per cent. Private construction came to $3.3 billion, and public construction added $1.3 billion.

Auto Output Gains

Auto production so far this year is 9.5 per cent ahead of the like period of 1963. Steel output is running well ahead of last year, although the pace may slacken soon.

Consumer spending goes on increasing, even if it hasn't yet shown the spurt that many expect as a result of the federal income tax cut.

Prospects Good For Rusty Hamer

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Gee, I hope I don't fall into obscurity," says 17-year-old Rusty Hamer. "I'm going to do everything I can to avoid it."

Offhand the picture of a high school senior worrying about obscurity might seem faintly ridiculous. But Rusty is not an ordinary 17-year-old. He has just finished an acting engagement that lasted 12 years, about as far back as he can remember.

In Series From Start

The boy played Danny Thomas' son in the comedian's weekly television show, and Rusty was the only cast member who spanned the series' entire history. He made the pilot film when he was only 5, but already a performer before women's clubs and in community theatricals.

The Danny Thomas show filmed its final segment last month following Danny's voluntary retirement as a weekly television performer.

"General Foods begged Danny to continue," said Rusty at his Santa Monica home. "But he thought it was time to quit. How did I feel? Not sad, really. You can't go on doing the same thing all your life.

"I haven't had much reaction at all. Of course it might hit me next fall, when I would ordinarily be starting to go back into production."

Without that prospect, Rusty has had to give some solid thought to the future.

Several Possibilities

"I want to work right away, and the prospects are good," he said. "They're interested in me for several of the 'Mr. Novak' shows at MGM. Walt Disney is interested in me. And there are chances I might do shows like 'Dr. Kildare,' 'Ben Casey' and 'Arrest and Trial.' I'd like that. I want to do some dramatic shows. There were some dramatic moments in the Thomas show, but mostly it was played for laughs."

But it won't be all work for Rusty's future. He'll be graduated from Palisades High School in June and go on to college.

Lane County, Ore., still has 48 covered bridges in use.

Deviates From Conference Rule

Johnson Makes Full Use Of TV on Accomplishments

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — For reasons unclear, President Johnson has deprived himself of good and free publicity by not holding regular news conferences live on television and radio. He held one Thursday and came out well.

It was the kind of conference which must make would-be Republican candidates ache with envy. In their present condition they don't get the same opportunity as the President, free and nationwide air time.

And even if they did, they'd be handicapped. The best they could do would be criticize and make promises. As President, Johnson was able to point to accomplishments. He made full use of that chance.

Points With Pride

With members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors sitting in on the conference with Washington newsmen—the ASNE is holding a meeting here—Johnson started out with some pointing with pride:

The Gross National Product is higher than ever, personal income is up, unemployment has dropped a bit, the number of jobs has increased, business profits are moving ahead.

Then, thanks to the nature of the questions asked him, Johnson was able to get in plugs for his ideas and programs.

Up until now it has been taken for granted Johnson wanted to run for a full term in the presidency but he never quite said so. He did Thursday with the simple sentence: "I am prepared to continue."

Talked With Ease

In some of his television appearances since succeeding President John F. Kennedy last November—particularly in making speeches—he has seemed self-conscious, dolorous and heavy-handed.

Not Thursday, when he operated with ease. The reaction, at least among newsmen who saw him, was generally good. And this may encourage Johnson to try the same again and more often.

In the past he has pretty much limited himself to suddenly calling newsmen around the White House into an impromptu conference, away from live radio and television. This meant only photos of him were shown later.

Not as Relaxed

It has been suggested one reason he avoided regular televised meetings with the press—the kind Knnedy almost turned into an institution—was that he was neither as witty nor as relaxed with newsmen as Kennedy.

Generally speaking, this is true. Johnson's humor, when he tried it, has been rather flat and heavy. And there was very little glisten in his sentences.

But Thursday he was completely articulate, his phrasing was good, he got to the point, and he managed to give out a good deal of information and a number of his opinions on issues.

Served Him Well

Some of the Kennedy conferences, despite the sense of life injected into them by personality alone, were pretty thin on news although just keeping himself before the public must have served him as a politician.

If Kennedy had been president in the days before television, it's doubtful there ever would have been as much national grief over his sudden and violent death as burst forth when he was assassinated in Dallas.

Because he stayed so much on television in news conferences and otherwise—pleasant, reassuring, giving a sense of a newly young America moving—he became a familiar, well-liked and, with some, a much-beloved figure.

All this was certainly apparent to Johnson. After Thursday's good performance he may feel encouraged to do the same. He'll have to get used to the idea of talking off the cuff on television anyway.

In this year's campaign he'll have to do a lot of it. News conferences are a good preparation to try out style.

Late Prof. Warned About Park Walks

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles J. Gallagher Jr., slain nuclear physicist, had been seen roaming Central Park at night on several occasions and once was warned by a patrolman to keep to the paths for his own protection.

Gallagher, 31, an assistant professor at Columbia University, was shot to death in the park late Tuesday night or early Wednesday.

Police disclosed Thursday that Gallagher's photograph was recognized by several patrolmen doing duty in the park. Police emphasized that there was nothing suspicious in his actions.

A pair of women's shoes found near Gallagher's body apparently was not connected with his slaying, police said.

A convict may refuse to accept the conditions of a contitional pardon.

Search Is Renewed For Man Along River

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—The search was renewed early today along the Saranac River for a 76-year-old man who was feared drowned in a fall from the yard of his home, bordering the river.

Herbert Frederick, who lives alone, was last seen raking leaves in his back yard late Thursday. At the rear of the yard, there is a drop of about 20 feet to the river.

Police, firemen and volunteers were called after he failed to appear for supper, which his daughter had brought to him.

His rake and glasses were found at the edge of the water.

Would Dismiss Charges

RIVERHEAD, N.Y. (AP)—Dist. Atty. Bernard Smith has moved to dismiss charges against the remaining four youthful defendants accused of helping wreck an oceanfront mansion after a debutante party.

"It would be pointless and a waste of the taxpayers' money to do otherwise," Smith said Thursday in starting the dismissal process in Suffolk County Court.

Smith referred to Judge Thomas Stark's acquittal of four defendants Wednesday. Stark, who heard the cases without a jury, ruled the evidence was not sufficient to sustain a criminal charge.

More Tony Voters

NEW YORK (AP) — A new procedure for picking winners of Broadway's annual Tony Citation has been adopted by the American Theater Wing.

Show producers and all critics, writers and editors regularly covering theatrical events are to cast ballots along with the Wing's officers and subscribers. The organization also is deferring awards until the end of May—a month later than formerly—so that late-season arrivals may be eligible.

The silver medallions are awarded for "outstanding achievement" in various performing and technical categories.

And even if they did, they'd be handicapped. The best they could do would be criticize and make promises. As President, Johnson was able to point to accomplishments. He made full use of that chance.

Points With Pride

With members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors sitting in on the conference with Washington newsmen—the ASNE is holding a meeting here—Johnson started out with some pointing with pride:

The Gross National Product is higher than ever, personal income is up, unemployment has dropped a bit, the number of jobs has increased, business profits are moving ahead.

Then, thanks to the nature of the questions asked him, Johnson was able to get in plugs for his ideas and programs.

Up until now it has been taken for granted Johnson wanted to run for a full term in the presidency but he never quite said so. He did Thursday with the simple sentence: "I am prepared to continue."

Talked With Ease

In some of his television appearances since succeeding President John F. Kennedy last November—particularly in making speeches—he has seemed self-conscious, dolorous and heavy-handed.

Not Thursday, when he operated with ease. The reaction, at least among newsmen who saw him, was generally good. And this may encourage Johnson to try the same again and more often.

In the past he has pretty much limited himself to suddenly calling newsmen around the White House into an impromptu conference, away from live radio and television. This meant only photos of him were shown later.

Not as Relaxed

It has been suggested one reason he avoided regular televised meetings with the press—the kind Knnedy almost turned into an institution—was that he was neither as witty nor as relaxed with newsmen as Kennedy.

Generally speaking, this is true. Johnson's humor, when he tried it, has been rather flat and heavy. And there was very little glisten in his sentences.

But Thursday he was completely articulate, his phrasing was good, he got to the point, and he managed to give out a good deal of information and a number of his opinions on issues.

Served Him Well

Some of the Kennedy conferences, despite the sense of life injected into them by personality alone, were pretty thin on news although just keeping himself before the public must have served him as a politician.

If Kennedy had been president in the days before television, it's doubtful there ever would have been as much national grief over his sudden and violent death as burst forth when he was assassinated in Dallas.

Because he stayed so much on television in news conferences and otherwise—pleasant, reassuring, giving a sense of a newly young America moving—he became a familiar, well-liked and, with some, a much-beloved figure.

All this was certainly apparent to Johnson. After Thursday's good performance he may feel encouraged to do the same. He'll have to get used to the idea of talking off the cuff on television anyway.

In this year's campaign he'll have to do a lot of it. News conferences are a good preparation to try out style.

Late Prof. Warned About Park Walks

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles J. Gallagher Jr., slain nuclear physicist, had been seen roaming Central Park at night on several occasions and once was warned by a patrolman to keep to the paths for his own protection.

Gallagher, 31, an assistant professor at Columbia University, was shot to death in the park late Tuesday night or early Wednesday.

Police disclosed Thursday that Gallagher's photograph was recognized by several patrolmen doing duty in the park. Police emphasized that there was nothing suspicious in his actions.

A pair of women's shoes found near Gallagher's body apparently was not connected with his slaying, police said.

A convict may refuse to accept the conditions of a conditional pardon.

Search Is Renewed For Man Along River

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—The search was renewed early today along the Saranac River for a 76-year-old man who was feared drowned in a fall from the yard of his home, bordering the river.

Herbert Frederick, who lives alone, was last seen raking leaves in his back yard late Thursday. At the rear of the yard, there is a drop of about 20 feet to the river.

Police, firemen and volunteers were called after he failed to appear for supper, which his daughter had brought to him.

His rake and glasses were found at the edge of the water.

Would Dismiss Charges

RIVERHEAD, N.Y. (AP)—Dist. Atty. Bernard Smith has moved to dismiss charges against the remaining four youthful defendants accused of helping wreck an oceanfront mansion after a debutante party.

"It would be pointless and a waste of the taxpayers' money to do otherwise," Smith said Thursday in starting the dismissal process in Suffolk County Court.

Smith referred to Judge Thomas Stark's acquittal of four defendants Wednesday. Stark, who heard the cases without a jury, ruled the evidence was not sufficient to sustain a criminal charge.

Party Is Still Dreaming of Comeback

U.S. Communists Hope to Seduce Youth and Capture CR Movement

Editor's Note—The Communist party in the United States is sick, but still dreaming of a comeback. In the last of four articles on the state of the party today, an AP specialist tells of its hopes to seduce youth and capture the civil rights movement.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The Communist party of the United States dreams of a comeback for its desperately sick organization.

May Avoid Old Label

Gus Hall, current leader of a few thousand leftovers from the once - feared organization, appears to hope his party can zero in on two aspects of American life: youthful restlessness and the civil rights uproar.

Hall is believed planning a convention this summer, possibly in Chicago, to form a Marxist youth group—avoiding the label "Communist". The party, old and tired and plagued by defections, is desperate for young blood.

Since 1961, often using a discreet form of academic blackmail, the party has pushed a campus drive for recruits. Between 1961 and 1963, leading Communists made 91 speeches in 80 educational institutions across the country.

Apparently Hall felt this was successful enough to warrant an attempt to form a "Labor Youth League" under Mortimer Daniel (Danny) Rubin, the party's National Youth chairman.

How do Communist leaders get their student hearings? They send out offers to appear as speakers. If these are refused, they make a campus issue of it, accusing the institution of opposing free speech and academic freedom. It can cause enough fuss to work.

From a speakers' bureau in New York, Communist leaders travel on expense accounts across the country seeking out youthful material.

Some Out of Curiosity

They get student audiences. Many attend out of curiosity, many to jeer. Possibly the party picks up some recruits in the process.

Another rescue attempt lies in a civil rights drive. Communists try to infiltrate organizations, take part in demonstrations, use eruptions of violence, claim credit for supporting the Negro cause and where possible publicize violence as the result of "white terror."

"The civil rights front is that on which the main battles are being fought today," says Hall, a tough, bulky former lumberjack who has spent 30 of his 53 years in prisons or under indictment. "It must at all times receive our top attention."

Hall, former party chairman in the Midwest, is a Minnesota product of Finnish descent, born Arvo Mike Halberg. He was one of the party 12 sentenced to prison for advocating violent overthrow of the government. He jumped bail, dyed his hair, had a telltale wart removed from his neck and skipped to Mexico.

Faces 30-Year Term

Apprehended and returned, he served extra time for his flight, and was released from prison in 1957. Today he is under indictment again and facing a possible 30 years for refusing to register the Communist party as a Communist-action group. His fate awaits action of the higher courts.

Hall's program for 1964 reads like a Communist dream world. The idea: there must be "left formations" to help elect "new forward - looking progressive congressmen and senators as well as members of state government bodies." By progressive, Communists mean people who can be duped and used, but Hall fails to explain how the Communists will get their men elected.

Among Negroes, the party has practically no support. Recent defectors say the Negro membership is a handful. But what the party seems to hope for is the opportunity to influence Negro leaders who carry the civil rights ball. They'd like to place Communist cadres close to that leadership.

How is the party financing its current activity?

Little From Moscow Now

There was a time when it did not lack for money. What it couldn't collect from its various enterprises, Moscow would provide. There seems to be precious little money from Moscow today.

The party probably still has business enterprises set up under cover fronts. It still collects money from contributions. It still gets money from stray, left-leaning millionaires fascinated by communism.

About 160 Communist fronts still under FBI surveillance are potential sources of funds.

But the party remains in deep trouble. The Russians long have seemed to regard it with contempt. Moscow no longer seems to want it as a source for spies. Perhaps it's because the FBI knows too much about the party.

But Moscow needs a U.S. Communist party. Recently, Moscow solemnly hailed the party and its newspaper, on the Worker's 40th anniversary, and paid tribute to Hall.

Today he is portrayed by Moscow as an American patriot persecuted by U.S. "ruling circles." For Soviet internal consumption, Moscow needs the fiction of a significant U.S. Communist party.

Labor Will Act If Congress Moves On Rail Strike

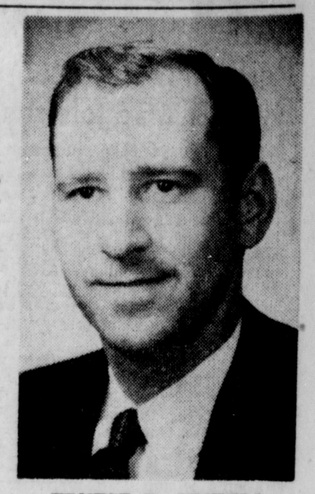

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Labor will seek to nationalize the railroads if Congress moves to outlaw a rail strike, says George Meany, of AFL-CIO.

Meany told a convention of the Operating Engineers Union in San Francisco Thursday night that the AFL-CIO would propose countermeasures for nationalization if bills prohibiting railroad strikes go before Congress.

"If they insist on destroying the rights of workers to strike because of a public interest, then the public interest must be so great that the public should own the railroads," Meany said.

Meany said the railroads "are run for private profit" and the government has no right to deny the right of "workers to strike, in order to protect the private profit of other citizens."

Will Coordinate All Ferrite Core Programs at IBM

ERNEST K. FRIEDLI

The appointment of Ernest K. Friedli of Poughkeepsie to assistant for memory manufacturing has been announced by Richard J. Whelan, general manager of the IBM Data Systems Division plant at Kingston.

In his new position, Friedli will be responsible for coordination of all ferrite core programs which are now designated for production in Kingston. He will represent Kingston in all negotiations between Data Systems Division engineering and manufacturing and will be responsible for the timely delivery of all committed schedules.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Anderson of West Hurley.

Friedli joined IBM in March, 1947 as an engineering trainee at Endicott. He was transferred to the Poughkeepsie plant the following year as a design engineer. After advancing through several technical positions there, he attended the administrative training program at corporate headquarters in early 1953, returning to Poughkeepsie in December of that year. In 1954 he transferred to San Jose, Calif. as project manager in pilot production and was named assistant manager of product engineering in May, 1957.

In early 1958, Friedli transferred to General Products Division headquarters, White Plains, as an administrative assistant and in mid-1959 he joined Data Systems Division headquarters, then at White Plains, as assistant for equipment scheduling. He was named IBM 7030 (STRETCH) program administrator at Kingstotn in early 1961, and administrative assistant in the office of the works manager later that year. In April, 1962, Friedli was promoted to industrial and manufacturing engineering manager, a post he has held until his present appointment.

He received a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Duke University.

Friedli, his wife Sheila, and children Kipp 9; and Brett, 6; reside on 7 Woodward Road, Poughkeepsie.

State Engineer Found Shot in Apartment

COHOES, N.Y. (AP) — Klaus G. Thomas, 26, was found shot to death Thursday on a couch in his apartment, a .30-caliber rifle between his legs and gun-cleaning equipment on the floor.

A bullet in the head killed the State Department of Public Works civil engineer, police said.

Albany County Coroner Leo Sorel withheld a verdict.

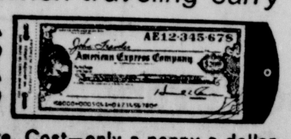

The owner of the apartment building in this city on the Hudson River told police he had not seen Thomas since Monday night.

Thomas, a graduate of the University of Maine in 1959, received his master's degree from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in 1961. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Thomas of Oradell, N.J.

Cadillac

AN INTERNATIONAL CELEBRITY ARRIVES AT THE FAIR

The occasion is the New York World's Fair . . . the scene is the spectacular General Motors Futurama—and the car, of course, is Cadillac.

And the Cadillac car is a standout attraction even in this distinguished international company. For there is no automobile anywhere that can match Cadillac's reputation for excellence. Drive any of eleven 1964 models and you'll discover why.

There's Cadillac's magnificent and silent power. A 340-horsepower V-8 engine—most powerful in Cadillac history—generates performance so swiftly that we caution even long-time Cadillac owners to mind their speedometers. There is the smoothness of our transmissions—an improved Hydra-Matic or new Turbo Hydra-Matic—which deliver that power to the rear wheels.

There is the luxury of elegantly appointed interiors, together with the great convenience of power brakes and steering (plus power windows on most models) that have turned the 600-mile day into a restful reality.

And there is also investment. Find a fine car, if you can, that returns more than your Cadillac when you choose to sell or trade it.

Isn't it time to drive Cadillac—the one American fine car that enjoys premier rank whenever the world's great automobiles are considered? Visit your Cadillac dealer soon. His selection of international favorites has never been more tempting.

NOT KNOWING THE BOY'S MOTHER

Q: Yesterday afternoon my daughter's boy friend offered to drive my daughter and me into town to do some shopping. When he arrived at our house to pick us up he discovered that he had forgotten his driver's license. He stopped off at his house on the way into town, to pick it up. He asked us to go in but I said we would wait in the car as I did not think it right to barge in unannounced on people we did not know. Apaprently he told his mother that we were waiting in the car because when he came out he said mother was hurt because we would not go in. Under the circumstances, do you think we were right or should we have gone in to meet his mother?

A: If she wanted you to come in, she should have gone out to the car and invited you into the house, but not having done so, you were quite right not to barge in on a perfect stranger.

Seating the Bridegroom's Mother

Q: My son is to be married next month and I would like to know just when I should be seated in church. Also, is it proper for the mother and father of the groom to walk in together, preceded by the usher, or does the groom's mother walk up the aisle on the arm of an usher with her husband following?

A: You are seated immediately before the mother of the bride and walk up the aisle on the arm of an usher. Your husband follows you.

* * *

Young Girl to Be Confirmed

Q: I will be receiving the sacrament of Confirmation in a few weeks. I have asked a friend of the family to be my sponsor. I would like to know if I should buy a gift for her?

A: A present for her will not be necessary. In fact, it is usually the sponsor who gives a present to the person who is being confirmed.

Miton F. Ottesen, member of the faculty at State University College, New Paltz, has been elected to membership in ASCAP, the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers. We the Women

"In the past several years my husband and I have had many disagreements about how we should bring up our two boys. They are only 8 and 10 years old, and very impressionable. Tom, my husband, constantly brings up the fact that he got along without certain things at their age, so why can't they?

"When I take the children's side on some issue there's an ugly argument in front of them, and I don't think that is good for the children. Yet I am determined to have some say-so in regard to what they should have and what is to be expected of them, feeling strongly that their father is too hard on them. Am I right or wrong?"

You're both right and wrong, it seems to me. You're right in thinking that you should have some say-so in any issue that involves your children.

But you're dead-wrong in siding with the children against their father in their presence.

Next time a question has to be decided, tell the children: "Your father and I will have to talk this over. You run along and play and we'll tell you what we decide."

Then whatever decision you reach, whether his ideas or yours win out, or you decide to compromise, give the decision to your children in a "Your father and I have decided" statement.

It isn't too important that a husband and wife differ somewhat on how to bring up their children, just so the children get the idea that both parents are in agreement.

What confuses children and gets them mixed up in their loyalties is for the parents to disagree about them in their hearing.

The only result can be resentment by the children toward the stricter parent, and an unwarranted feeling that the more lenient parent is "on their side."

We the Women

"In the past several years my husband and I have had many disagreements about how we should bring up our two boys. They are only 8 and 10 years old, and very impressionable. Tom, my husband, constantly brings up the fact that he got along without certain things at their age, so why can't they?

"When I take the children's side on some issue there's an ugly argument in front of them, and I don't think that is good for the children. Yet I am determined to have some say-so in regard to what they should have and what is to be expected of them, feeling strongly that their father is too hard on them. Am I right or wrong?"

You're both right and wrong, it seems to me. You're right in thinking that you should have some say-so in any issue that involves your children.

But you're dead-wrong in siding with the children against their father in their presence.

Next time a question has to be decided, tell the children: "Your father and I will have to talk this over. You run along and play and we'll tell you what we decide."

Then whatever decision you reach, whether his ideas or yours win out, or you decide to compromise, give the decision to your children in a "Your father and I have decided" statement.

It isn't too important that a husband and wife differ somewhat on how to bring up their children, just so the children get the idea that both parents are in agreement.

What confuses children and gets them mixed up in their loyalties is for the parents to disagree about them in their hearing.

KHS Defeats Roosevelt, 6-4: Sawyer Rally Checks Cairo, 7-6

Bach and Schabot Hurl 3-Hitter In 1964 Opener

Brian Bach and Joe Shabot combined to hurl Kingston High School to a three-hit 6-4 win over Roosevelt Central on Thursday to mark a successful season opener in a non-league game played at the Roosevelt field.

The Maroon nine took advantage of wildness and miscues by the Presidents while stretching out timely singles.

There were no extra base hits in the seven-inning contest.

Coach Al Gruner's boys led off with a walk issued to Lou Perry, followed by a single by Joe Amendola, Perry advancing on the hit. Nick Berardi reached first on an error, scoring Perry.

The Presidents bounced back when Fetchett and Pisamelli walked and Van Leuvan got aboard when hit by a pitched ball, Ferenz singled scoring Fetchett and Pisamelli, but there the rally ended.

The Presidents added two more in their half of the second when, after two men were retired, Fetchett was again knicked by a pitched ball and Pisamelli drew a walk, both men scoring on Rod DeVeau's error on a drive by VanLeuvan.

Four Runs in Fourth

After a scoreless third, the Maroon opened up on successive walks issued to Ed Mills, hurler Bach and Perry, loading the bases, Mills came in on a sacrifice fly by Mike Canning. Amendola got a free pass to first. Berardi got a base on a fielder's choice, scoring Bach with the second tally of the inning. Paul Gruner reached first on an error, scoring Perry with run number three. A bingle by DeVeau drove the fourth run across the plate before the sides were retired.

Both teams went scoreless in the fifth, but the Maroon added its sixth and final run in the top of the sixth when John Eccleston walked, stole second and scored on another single by Gruner.

Gruner and Deveau went 2-for-4 apiece for the afternoon for Kingston, while the Presidents' Ferenz rapped 2 for 3.

Scoreless Stint

Bach, the Maroon's righthander, held the home team to two hits and no runs in the last five innings he pitched and was credited with the win. Lefty Joe Schabot was knicked for all of the Presidents' runs on one hit in the first two frames. Schabot and Bach each struck out five batters. Schabot gave up four walks while Bach issued two free passes.

For the losers, Terpening was rapped for five hits and as many runs in four frames, while Dressel gave up a hit and a run in three innings. Losing pitcher Terpening struck out seven Kingstonians, but issued six walks. Dressel fanned three and issued the same number of free passes.

The same teams will meet again at 4 p. m. Monday with the Maroon playing host at Dietz Stadium.

Five Teams Grab Franchises In Kingston Baseball League

The Kingston City Baseball League was assured of six teams for the 1964 season, highest number in several years, following last night's organization meeting at the city hall.

Five teams represented were: S&E Farms, Chick Boice, manager; Port Ewen Merchants, Jack Ciak, manager; Kingston Merchants, Len Whitten, manager; Elmer's Inn, Carl and Grant Stoutenburg, co-managers; Saugerties Dutchmen, Joe Benjamin, manager.

The sixth team will be the Kingston Eagles, if they re-organize for the season. If not, the Wallkill Athletic Club is ready to move in as the sixth team.

League officials said they would meet with Babe Ruth League officials to attempt to coordinate schedules for the season, since both leagues will be using Dietz Stadium. Next meeting will be April 30 at 7:30 p. m. at city hall.

Onteora Central Wins UCAL Baseball Opener

Onteora Central scored five runs in the top of the sixth to trounce New Paltz Central, 11-5, in the UCAL baseball opener Thursday at New Paltz. The game was called because of darkness at the end of six innings.

Linden Frasier, a senior right hander, went the distance for Onteora. He scattered eight hits, fanned six, walked only one and pitched shutout ball over the last three innings. In addition he had a perfect performance at the plate with three singles in three trips.

John Phelan and Mickey Gallagher collected two singles apiece among the Indians' 11 blows off Bob and Al Rickard. Spoljaric lashed a triple for Onteora and Freer hit a triple for the losers.

Onteora hosts Margaretville next Monday.

Onteora Jayvees blanked New Paltz Jayvees, 9-0, behind the pitching of Charlie Moore.

Albany Athletic Club, Curren's Advance in Tournament

Bombardiers and Ray's Tackle "5" Clash on Sunday

It was nice and easy for Albany Athletic Club and Curren Lincoln-Mercury last night, as they coasted to victories in the 11th annual Kingston Basketball Tournament before a small crowd at the municipal auditorium.

The AC, defending tourney champions, romped to a 77-65 verdict over the Albany IRA in the opener. Then Curren, though playing the whole game with only five men, trounced an inept Stony Point quintet, 85-59, to advance to the fourth round.

Last night's losers were eliminated from the double round tournament.

Big Games Sunday

Last night's winners will collide at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, followed by the climatic clash between Pine Plains Bombardiers and Ray's Tackle Shop of Kingston in the second game at 9 p. m.

Don Cohen, the ex-Albany State star, rimmed 21 points to pace the AC attack. Albany led by wide margins at the quarter stops and completely outplayed the IRA five. Phil Skilnick, who had 45 points in a previous start, tallied 29 for the losers, giving him 74 points in two games. However, as was the case in the other game, he had little help.

Curren was forced to play without the star performers, but the Westchesterites had its five scorers in double figures. Walt Simon showed the way with 27 points and big Al Ennis, the former St. Francis College star, plucked the backboards clean. Tony Citarella rimmed 18 points for Stony Point.

Only 12,709 See Yankee Opener

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra or no Yogi Berra, the New York Yankees face a serious attendance problem, if their home opener is any indication.

Only 12,709 paying customers watched them drop their first game of the 1964 season, a 4-3 decision in 11 innings to the Boston Red Sox Thursday. That was the smallest crowd to see a Yankee home opener in nine years.

Back in 1955, only 11,251 saw the Yankees bomb the Washington Senators 19-1 in their home inaugural. Then, as now, the home opener was postponed twice because of inclement weather.

Ralph Houk, the general manager, and Berra, the new field leader, used the double postponement as an excuse for the small attendance. Yet the sun was shining brightly all morning and the temperature was ideally suited for baseball.

"We had an advance sale of 18,000 for the opener last Tuesday," Berra said. "A lot of these people couldn't go today. We would have had more than twice as many people if we could have gotten the game in Tuesday."

Records Loom In Swimming

PITTSBURGH (AP) — One record was in the books after only two events and there was promise of more to come as the senior National AAU swimming and diving championships entered their second day today.

The record belongs to Sharon Finneran of the Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club. She swam the 1,650-yard freestyle in the University of Pittsburgh's 25-yard pool Thursday in 18:31.7 for an American and championship short-course record.

This was the first year the event has been held in the women's indoor championships.

Miss Finneran's mark easily eclipsed the best previous applied-for time of 18:42.3 set by her last Feb. 28.

Albany Athletic Club, Curren's Advance in Tournament

Bombardiers and Ray's Tackle "5" Clash on Sunday

It was nice and easy for Albany Athletic Club and Curren Lincoln-Mercury last night, as they coasted to victories in the 11th annual Kingston Basketball Tournament before a small crowd at the municipal auditorium.

The AC, defending tourney champions, romped to a 77-65 verdict over the Albany IRA in the opener. Then Curren, though playing the whole game with only five men, trounced an inept Stony Point quintet, 85-59, to advance to the fourth round.

Last night's losers were eliminated from the double round tournament.

Big Games Sunday

Last night's winners will collide at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, followed by the climatic clash between Pine Plains Bombardiers and Ray's Tackle Shop of Kingston in the second game at 9 p. m.

Don Cohen, the ex-Albany State star, rimmed 21 points to pace the AC attack. Albany led by wide margins at the quarter stops and completely outplayed the IRA five. Phil Skilnick, who had 45 points in a previous start, tallied 29 for the losers, giving him 74 points in two games. However, as was the case in the other game, he had little help.

Curren was forced to play without the star performers, but the Westchesterites had its five scorers in double figures. Walt Simon showed the way with 27 points and big Al Ennis, the former St. Francis College star, plucked the backboards clean. Tony Citarella rimmed 18 points for Stony Point.

Only 12,709 See Yankee Opener

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra or no Yogi Berra, the New York Yankees face a serious attendance problem, if their home opener is any indication.

Only 12,709 paying customers watched them drop their first game of the 1964 season, a 4-3 decision in 11 innings to the Boston Red Sox Thursday. That was the smallest crowd to see a Yankee home opener in nine years.

Back in 1955, only 11,251 saw the Yankees bomb the Washington Senators 19-1 in their home inaugural. Then, as now, the home opener was postponed twice because of inclement weather.

Ralph Houk, the general manager, and Berra, the new field leader, used the double postponement as an excuse for the small attendance. Yet the sun was shining brightly all morning and the temperature was ideally suited for baseball.

"We had an advance sale of 18,000 for the opener last Tuesday," Berra said. "A lot of these people couldn't go today. We would have had more than twice as many people if we could have gotten the game in Tuesday."

Records Loom In Swimming

PITTSBURGH (AP) — One record was in the books after only two events and there was promise of more to come as the senior National AAU swimming and diving championships entered their second day today.

The record belongs to Sharon Finneran of the Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club. She swam the 1,650-yard freestyle in the University of Pittsburgh's 25-yard pool Thursday in 18:31.7 for an American and championship short-course record.

This was the first year the event has been held in the women's indoor championships.

Miss Finneran's mark easily eclipsed the best previous applied-for time of 18:42.3 set by her last Feb. 28.

In the only other event Thursday night Mrs. Barbara McAlister Talmage of the Dick Smith Swim Gym in Phoenix, Ariz., won the one-meter diving title, defeating defending champion Patsy Willard, a member of the same team.

Cypriots Continue Skirmishes

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek and Turkish Cypriot bands today rounded out a week of intermittent skirmishing on mountain ridges overlooking the Turkish-held Kyrenia Pass, 10 miles north of Nicosia.

In one incident the sound of machine gun fire and the crack of rifles reverberated off rocky cliff faces and deep defiles for about two hours.

Greek Cypriot sources declared their forces wiped out two Turkish patrols advancing toward Greek-held positions, killing two men and wounding five. There was no Turkish confirmation.

The commander of Greek Cypriot forces in the area has his headquarters in the Greek village of Kato Khikomo. He said Canadian U.N. patrols assured him they would try to get the Turks off a hillock overlooking the village and a nearby farm and quarry where the majority of the workers of Kato Khikomo are employed.

Workers quit going to the farm and quarry after Turks fired on those two places.

Part of SLA Plan

This provision is part of a plan under which the SLA plans to end a moratorium, in effect since 1948, on issuance of new liquor store licenses.

This section of the new law is effective immediately.

Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney said Thursday that the liquor authority had worked out an arrangement under which present license holders will have the first opportunity to move into new locations in urban centers and suburban areas made available because of elimination of the distance requirements.

Moves first will be permitted within a county, Mahoney said, then statewide. According to the liquor authority plan, he said, no new licenses will be issued for 9 to 12 months.

The section of the law dealing with sale of food in taverns becomes effective June 1.

Under the terms of this section, the present restaurant liquor license will be retained. Another license will be provided, however, for bars and grills. It will be called a "special on-premises" license and will cost $200 more than the restaurant license.

The holder of a special license will not be required to serve meals but will have to offer what the governor referred to as "simple foods"—such things as sandwiches and soup.

Congress Aspirant Urges Fight

"While we have been going downhill, the brick industries of other states have been growing by leaps and bounds. And it appears that the policies of the New York State Division of Housing and Community Renewal are largely to blame," he charged. "In the last two years, under a revised series of specifications, Hudson Valley brick has been systematically and consciously excluded in favor of higher priced luxury brick. And this in spite of the fact that most of this material is being used to build low and middle income housing," said Resnick.

On State financed housing, or housing whose financing is guaranteed by the state, architects are appointed by the State Housing Commissioner without bids. Each individual architect has the right to specify the materials he wishes to use. In recent years, Hudson Valley brick has been completely excluded in favor of higher priced brick produced in other states, mostly in the South. According to Amato, when architects have specifically called for New York State brick, these specifications were changed by the New York State Division of Housing.

Points to Past

There are two types of brick, "mild weather" or common brick, and "severe weather" or face brick. Face brick is a higher priced, "luxury" product. Both types are now made by Hudson Valley plants. Until a few years ago, only common brick was made here. New York State specifications, however, were changed to require the use of severe weather brick exclusively. That's when the brickyards' troubles began to multiply. "It is inconceivable," said Resnick, "that Hudson Valley common brick, which has built most of the buildings in New York State for 200 years, should suddenly be declared unsuitable. When a 75-year-old building is torn down today, the bricks are carefully salvaged because they still have a high resale value for rebuilding. And those old bricks were not made nearly as well as today's product."

Resnick said he had spoken with area architects who have been using mild weather brick for hospitals, homes, and office buildings for years, with completely satisfactory performance. This type of brick not only costs less to make than luxury brick, but can be installed at lower cost.

However, in order to survive, most factories in the Hudson Valley have converted, or are now converting, to the manufacture of "severe weather" brick. This is a costly process. One plant recently converted at a cost of $2,000,000, Resnick said.

But the problem has still remained. According to one brickyard operator who is producing severe weather brick, Southern brick is still given preference on state-financed projects even though it frequently costs more than the comparable Hudson Valley product. In addition, state appointed architects are now specifying 3⅝ inch brick, a new size only made in the South. Hudson Valley brick is 2⅝ inch, and is not acceptable to the state.

Over the past five years, Amato said, he and the manufacturers have repeatedly beseeched the Governor, State Housing Commissioner, Senator Bush, Assemblyman Wilson, and Congressman Wharton about the rapidly decreasing production of Hudson Valley brick, but no action has been taken, and on assistance provided. During this period, 400 men lost their jobs as four yards shut their gates.

"What is really ironic about this situation," said Mr. Resnick, "is that the State seems to have lost interest in helping established industries survive, while at the same time it has spent millions promoting its "hard hat" program to bring in new industry. We demand an immediate inquiry into the reasons for discrimination against Hudson Valley brick in New York State specifications. Is it neglect, indifference, or something worse?"

Resnick said that the purpose of the investigation should be to provide specific answers to a number of questions including these: Why doesn't the State encourage architects to specify New York State brick, instead of the other way around? Why does the State discriminate against New York brick, when it is good enough for housing financed by New York City, where the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has used 220,000,000 common bricks in 37 propects in New York City? Why are architects appointed for these construction projects rather than obtained in open competition by bids? How many more jobs have to be lost before state officials will investigate the problems of the Hudson Valley plants in a constructive manner, to help them recapture their lost position in the industry? And finally, why should New York State money be diverted out of the state for housing whose financing is guaranteed by the state?

"The situation is critical," Resnick stated. "During the last 12 months it has become clear that the industry faces complete annihilation. The remaining brickyards which have not modernized their facilities, have been understandably reluctant to do so since they have not received any assurances from the state that if they become competitive they would have an opportunity to get the business."

President Urges

rights bill would "bring those protests and bring those petitions and bring those disturbances from the streets and the alleys into the courts where they belong."

In the political sphere, Johnson said he expects the presidential campaign to be "a hard fight, a difficult one.' And he drew laughter by adding, "I would hope that it wouldn't be too close."

Reminded that a poll of editors indicated broad expectation of a Johnson victory at the polls, the President commented, "I hope that they feel in November as they do in April."

And when asked if he were concerned about the possibility that independent electors committed to neither major party might be elected in Southern states, Johnson said:

"I would always be concerned about any elector that was not committed to vote for me."

Questioned about conflicting high-level statements comparing American and Soviet missile and air strength, Johnson said, "I am pleased with our strength."

Fire Chief Pough issued an urgent bulletin over Hudson radio station WHUC, cautioning all residents of the area not to light matches or smoke and to extinguish open flames.

Police and fire officials immediately began an investigation of the incident.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Selective strength boosted the stock market further into new high ground early this afternoon. Trading was active.

The big feature, once again, was Texas Gulf Sulpur which climbed further following Thursday's 7-point advance on news it had made a major discovery of copper, silver and zinc in Ontario.

Texas Gulf did not open until 75 minutes after the start of trading and then advanced 3⅜.

Substantial gains by blue chips occurred in various sections of the list. Steels, oils, airlines, chemicals, rails and utilities were moderately higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 7 at 306.1 with industrials up .9, rails up .3 and utilities up .6.

American Telephone climbed nearly 2 points.

A rise of well over a point by Chrysler added further beef to market averages.

Airlines recovered a little from recent selling.

The cigarette issues, however, still sustained profit taking. Liggett & Myers lost more than a point.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.64 at 827.29.

IBM picked up 5 points. Polaroid, Control Data and High Voltage Engineering were up about a point each.

Dutchess Man Is Hurt in Mishap

A Poughkeepsie man was injured at 1:30 a. m. today, when his automobile skidded and overturned against a three-foot stonewall off Route 9 at Dorsey Lane, Hyde Park.

Rhinebeck State Police said John Pochan, 57, of 44 Columbia Street, was driving south on Route 9 when he observed another car attempting a left turn into Dorsey Lane. Pochan told troopers he applied the brakes and turned to the left to avoid a collision. His car skidded and overturned, came to rest on the highway.

Pochan was taken to Vassar Hospital and treated for lacerations of the scalp and forehead. His condition was listed as fair.

Two Brothers Say Innocent, May 19 Is Date of Trial

Two downtown brothers allegedly involved in a fight earlier this month at a tavern, pleaded innocent in city court today and are due for trial May 19.

Leon Washington, 19, of 238 East Union Street, is charged with disorderly conduct. His brother, Joseph Washington Jr., was charged with attempting to prevent an officer from performing his duty. They were represented today by Attorney Michael Nardone.

Andrew Harper, 32, of 88 Broadway, also allegedly involved in the fight, and charged with disorderly conduct, is next due in court May 11. Joseph Washington, it was reported, had attempted to assist his brother.

The arrests followed a call for police to the Commanche Club, Canal Street.

Officer Curtis VanDemark, who was off duty, lodged the charge against Joseph Washington. Officers Joseph Kivlan and Leon Fitzgerald were dispatched to the tavern after police headquarters was notified.

Hearing of a third degree assault against Kenneth F. Joseph, 45, of 87 Pearl Street, was put over to Saturday. A police report at 12:50 a. m. said he was arrested by Claire Phillips of the same address. Officers Anthony Turck and Weston Hoffay were dispatched to the house after a call to police headquarters.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

'Babes in the Woods' Show Common Sense

Q) "At the age of 69 (my husband is 73) growth investments look rather foolish to this cautious old girl, and besides we are 'babes in the woods' as far as investments go. A salesman is trying to interest my husband and me in a newly formed insurance company. We have savings bank accounts earning us 4.8 per cent. Would you advise us to withdraw some of our savings funds and invest in this company?" — L. J.

A) You may be a novice in the investment field, but there is nothing wrong with your powers of reasoning and common-sense caution.

By no means would I advise you to transfer funds from your savings bank to a new venture, no matter how promising and glowing its future may sound. Any new company of this or any other type is a gamble at the start and should be undertaken only by those who can fully afford the risk involved.

At your age, you want relative safety and income, and this would provide neither.

Keep your money in the bank.

Q) "I own General Motors, Pacific Gas & Electric, and Chock Full o' Nuts. I am not worried about the first two but the last one, which I bought two years ago at 26, is now about half my cost price. Should I take my loss or stay with this stock? What are the prospects for Avnet and Hupp Corporations?" — R. D.

A) Many growth stocks such as Chock Full o' Nuts, which were very liberally appraised a few years ago, are now selling on a more realistic basis and more in line with current and prospective earning power. Sales of Chock Full o' Nuts continue to move ahead at a good pace, but increasing competition and new product introduction has slowed the gain in profits.

I would still hold the stock, however. And your Avnet and Hupp Corp. have, in my opinion, a moderate measure of speculative attraction.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Cypriots Continue Skirmishes

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek and Turkish Cypriot bands today rounded out a week of intermittent skirmishing on mountain ridges overlooking the Turkish-held Kyrenia Pass, 10 miles north of Nicosia.

In one incident the sound of machine gun fire and the crack of rifles reverberated off rocky cliff faces and deep defiles for about two hours.

Greek Cypriot sources declared their forces wiped out two Turkish patrols advancing toward Greek-held positions, killing two men and wounding five. There was no Turkish confirmation.

The commander of Greek Cypriot forces in the area has his headquarters in the Greek village of Kato Khikomo. He said Canadian U.N. patrols assured him they would try to get the Turks off a hillock overlooking the village and a nearby farm and quarry where the majority of the workers of Kato Khikomo are employed.

Workers quit going to the farm and quarry after Turks fired on those two places.

Part of SLA Plan

This provision is part of a plan under which the SLA plans to end a moratorium, in effect since 1948, on issuance of new liquor store licenses.

This section of the new law is effective immediately.

Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney said Thursday that the liquor authority had worked out an arrangement under which present license holders will have the first opportunity to move into new locations in urban centers and suburban areas made available because of elimination of the distance requirements.

Moves first will be permitted within a county, Mahoney said, then statewide. According to the liquor authority plan, he said, no new licenses will be issued for 9 to 12 months.

The section of the law dealing with sale of food in taverns becomes effective June 1.

Under the terms of this section, the present restaurant liquor license will be retained. Another license will be provided, however, for bars and grills. It will be called a "special on-premises" license and will cost $200 more than the restaurant license.

The holder of a special license will not be required to serve meals but will have to offer what the governor referred to as "simple foods"—such things as sandwiches and soup.

Congress Aspirant Urges Fight

"While we have been going downhill, the brick industries of other states have been growing by leaps and bounds. And it appears that the policies of the New York State Division of Housing and Community Renewal are largely to blame," he charged. "In the last two years, under a revised series of specifications, Hudson Valley brick has been systematically and consciously excluded in favor of higher priced luxury brick. And this in spite of the fact that most of this material is being used to build low and middle income housing," said Resnick.

On State financed housing, or housing whose financing is guaranteed by the state, architects are appointed by the State Housing Commissioner without bids. Each individual architect has the right to specify the materials he wishes to use. In recent years, Hudson Valley brick has been completely excluded in favor of higher priced brick produced in other states, mostly in the South. According to Amato, when architects have specifically called for New York State brick, these specifications were changed by the New York State Division of Housing.

Points to Past

There are two types of brick, "mild weather" or common brick, and "severe weather" or face brick. Face brick is a higher priced, "luxury" product. Both types are now made by Hudson Valley plants. Until a few years ago, only common brick was made here. New York State specifications, however, were changed to require the use of severe weather brick exclusively. That's when the brickyards' troubles began to multiply. "It is inconceivable," said Resnick, "that Hudson Valley common brick, which has built most of the buildings in New York State for 200 years, should suddenly be declared unsuitable. When a 75-year-old building is torn down today, the bricks are carefully salvaged because they still have a high resale value for rebuilding. And those old bricks were not made nearly as well as today's product."

Resnick said he had spoken with area architects who have been using mild weather brick for hospitals, homes, and office buildings for years, with completely satisfactory performance. This type of brick not only costs less to make than luxury brick, but can be installed at lower cost.

However, in order to survive, most factories in the Hudson Valley have converted, or are now converting, to the manufacture of "severe weather" brick. This is a costly process. One plant recently converted at a cost of $2,000,000, Resnick said.

But the problem has still remained. According to one brickyard operator who is producing severe weather brick, Southern brick is still given preference on state-financed projects even though it frequently costs more than the comparable Hudson Valley product. In addition, state appointed architects are now specifying 3⅝ inch brick, a new size only made in the South. Hudson Valley brick is 2⅝ inch, and is not acceptable to the state.

Over the past five years, Amato said, he and the manufacturers have repeatedly beseeched the Governor, State Housing Commissioner, Senator Bush, Assemblyman Wilson, and Congressman Wharton about the rapidly decreasing production of Hudson Valley brick, but no action has been taken, and on assistance provided. During this period, 400 men lost their jobs as four yards shut their gates.

"What is really ironic about this situation," said Mr. Resnick, "is that the State seems to have lost interest in helping established industries survive, while at the same time it has spent millions promoting its "hard hat" program to bring in new industry. We demand an immediate inquiry into the reasons for discrimination against Hudson Valley brick in New York State specifications. Is it neglect, indifference, or something worse?"

Resnick said that the purpose of the investigation should be to provide specific answers to a number of questions including these: Why doesn't the State encourage architects to specify New York State brick, instead of the other way around? Why does the State discriminate against New York brick, when it is good enough for housing financed by New York City, where the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has used 220,000,000 common bricks in 37 propects in New York City? Why are architects appointed for these construction projects rather than obtained in open competition by bids? How many more jobs have to be lost before state officials will investigate the problems of the Hudson Valley plants in a constructive manner, to help them recapture their lost position in the industry? And finally, why should New York State money be diverted out of the state for housing whose financing is guaranteed by the state?

"The situation is critical," Resnick stated. "During the last 12 months it has become clear that the industry faces complete annihilation. The remaining brickyards which have not modernized their facilities, have been understandably reluctant to do so since they have not received any assurances from the state that if they become competitive they would have an opportunity to get the business."

President Urges

rights bill would "bring those protests and bring those petitions and bring those disturbances from the streets and the alleys into the courts where they belong."

In the political sphere, Johnson said he expects the presidential campaign to be "a hard fight, a difficult one." And he drew laughter by adding, "I would hope that it wouldn't be too close."

Reminded that a poll of editors indicated broad expectation of a Johnson victory at the polls, the President commented, "I hope that they feel in November as they do in April."

And when asked if he were concerned about the possibility that independent electors committed to neither major party might be elected in Southern states, Johnson said:

"I would always be concerned about any elector that was not committed to vote for me."

Questioned about conflicting high-level statements comparing American and Soviet missile and air strength, Johnson said, "I am pleased with our strength."

Police and fire officials immediately began an investigation of the incident.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Selective strength boosted the stock market further into new high ground early this afternoon. Trading was active.

The big feature, once again, was Texas Gulf Sulpur which climbed further following Thursday's 7-point advance on news it had made a major discovery of copper, silver and zinc in Ontario.

Texas Gulf did not open until 75 minutes after the start of trading and then advanced 3⅜s.

Substantial gains by blue chips occurred in various sections of the list. Steels, oils, airlines, chemicals, rails and utilities were moderately higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 306.1 with industrials up .9, rails up .3 and utilities up .6.

American Telephone climbed nearly 2 points.

A rise of well over a point by Chrysler added further beef to market averages.

Airlines recovered a little from recent selling.

The cigarette issues, however, still sustained profit taking. Liggett & Myers lost more than a point.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.64 at 827.29.

IBM picked up 5 points. Polaroid, Control Data and High Voltage Engineering were up about a point each.

Dutchess Man Is Hurt in Mishap

A Poughkeepsie man was injured at 1:30 a. m. today, when his automobile skidded and overturned against a three-foot stonewall off Route 9 at Dorsey Lane, Hyde Park.

Rhinebeck State Police said John Pochan, 57, of 44 Columbia Street, was driving south on Route 9 when he observed another car attempting a left turn into Dorsey Lane. Pochan told troopers he applied the brakes and turned to the left to avoid a collision. His car skidded and overturned, came to rest on the highway.

Pochan was taken to Vassar Hospital and treated for lacerations of the scalp and forehead. His condition was listed as fair.

Two Brothers Say Innocent, May 19 Is Date of Trial

Two downtown brothers allegedly involved in a fight earlier this month at a tavern, pleaded innocent in city court today and are due for trial May 19.

Leon Washington, 19, of 238 East Union Street, is charged with disorderly conduct. His brother, Joseph Washington Jr., was charged with attempting to prevent an officer from performing his duty. They were represented today by Attorney Michael Nardone.

Andrew Harper, 32, of 88 Broadway, also allegedly involved in the fight, and charged with disorderly conduct, is next due in court May 11. Joseph Washington, it was reported, had attempted to assist his brother.

The arrests followed a call for police to the Commanche Club, Canal Street.

Officer Curtis VanDemark, who was off duty, lodged the charge against Joseph Washington. Officers Joseph Kivlan and Leon Fitzgerald were dispatched to the tavern after police headquarters was notified.

Hearing of a third degree assault against Kenneth F. Joseph, 45, of 87 Pearl Street, was put over to Saturday. A police report at 12:50 a. m. said he was arrested by Claire Phillips of the same address. Officers Anthony Turck and Weston Hoffay were dispatched to the house after a call to police headquarters.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

'Babes in the Woods' Show Common Sense

Q) "At the age of 69 (my husband is 73) growth investments look rather foolish to this cautious old girl, and besides we are 'babes in the woods' as far as investments go. A salesman is trying to interest my husband and me in a newly formed insurance company. We have savings bank accounts earning us 4.8 per cent. Would you advise us to withdraw some of our savings funds and invest in this company?" — L. J.

A) You may be a novice in the investment field, but there is nothing wrong with your powers of reasoning and common-sense caution.

By no means would I advise you to transfer funds from your savings bank to a new venture, no matter how promising and glowing its future may sound. Any new company of this or any other type is a gamble at the start and should be undertaken only by those who can fully afford the risk involved.

At your age, you want relative safety and income, and this would provide neither.

Keep your money in the bank.

Q) "I own General Motors, Pacific Gas & Electric, and Chock Full o' Nuts. I am not worried about the first two but the last one, which I bought two years ago at 26, is now about half my cost price. Should I take my loss or stay with this stock? What are the prospects for Avnet and Hupp Corporations?" — R. D.

A) Many growth stocks such as Chock Full o' Nuts, which were very liberally appraised a few years ago, are now selling on a more realistic basis and more in line with current and prospective earning power. Sales of Chock Full o' Nuts continue to move ahead at a good pace, but increasing competition and new product introduction has slowed the gain in profits.

I would still hold the stock, however. And your Avnet and Hupp Corp. have, in my opinion, a moderate measure of speculative attraction.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Cold Air Digs Into Montana

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cold air from Canada, fanned by brisk northerly winds, spread into sections of the northern Plains today, ending a brief spell of unseasonable warm weather in some areas.

Light snow fell in parts of Montana and northern Wyoming and light rain splashed areas in North Dakota. Rain also dampened areas in Texas, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Washington. Mostly dry weather was reported in other parts of the nation.

The coldest weather, with temperatures in the teens, was reported in southwest Montana. Readings dropped to the 30s in parts of the Dakotas after hitting record high marks for April 16 in some cities Thursday. The mercury climbed to 92 in Sioux Falls and Huron, S.D., and 81 in Fargo, N.D.

Many other cities in the Midwest Thursday reported record high temperatures for April 16, including 94 in Grand Island, Neb., and 87 in La Crosse Wis., and Waterloo, Iowa. Chicago's 84 tied the record high for the date.

Stall-in Still On Wednesday, Wagner Critical

NEW YORK (AP)—A militant civil rights group has refused to call off its plan to tie up traffic near the World's Fair on Wednesday, despite criticism from Mayor Robert F. Wagner and national Negro leaders.

Isiah Brunson, chairman of the Brooklyn chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), emerged from a three-hour meeting with the City Commission on Human Rights Thursday night and said:

"The World's Fair stall-in is still on as of this moment."

The Brooklyn CORE chapter has been suspended by the national organization, which rejected the stall-in plan.

The plan calls for demonstrators in cars to have the vehicles run out of fuel on the highways leading to the fair site.

In Washington, Negro leaders denounced the stall-in plan as a "revolutionary proposal" that might bring harm to thousands of persons.

Plaza Official Denies New Land

A report circulated to the effect that the Kingston Shopping Plaza had acquired additional land on Clinton Avenue, at the head of John Street, to widen its entrance from Clinton Avenue to the Westbrook Lane entrance, was denied by an official of the Kingston Shopping Plaza.

The former Roger Baer residence premises were acquired and demolished to give a direct entrance to the shopping plaza parking area from Clinton Avenue. A new street, Westbrook Lane, was constructed over the premises from Clinton Avenue giving direct entrance to the shopping plaza. There also are entrances from Fair Street Extension and from Washington Avenue near Hurley Avenue, where a new street was constructed over the former O. & W. Railroad right of way.

Miner's Body Recovered

BURKE, Idaho (AP) — Rescuers late Thursday night recovered the body of the second miner crushed to death in a cave-in Wednesday in Idaho's biggest zinc mine.

The body of Barney McCoy, 48, of Wallace, Idaho, had been located at midmorning Thursday, but debris in the deep shaft of the Star mine stalled recovery efforts.

The body of his companion, Reed Peck, 41, also from the Wallace area, was brought to the surface about five hours after the shaft caved in following an earth slippage in the tunnel area.

Hospital Power Cable Damaged, Quiz 2 Doctors

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Police discovered today that a cable supplying power to the operating room of a Brussels hospital had been damaged. They held two striking doctors for questioning.

The incident came to light as new intensive efforts were undertaken to end the 17-day-old walkout of Belgium's 12,000 doctors and dentists in protest against a new socialized medical law.

The office of the Brussels general prosecutor confirmed that the doctors were being investigated. No formal charges have been placed.

Premier Theo Lefevre met with the rectors of Brussels, Liege, Louvain and Ghent universities in an effort to complete a settlement formula. The universities, the only four in Belgium, all have medical schools and occupy a distinctive place in Belgian life.

Later, the rectors contacted the leaders of the strike.

The government and the strikers indicated the walkout might be settled in the next 24 to 48 hours.

Reunion for Raiders

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—More than 40 Doolittle raiders, now gathering in Fort Worth for their 18th annual reunion, will be greeted Saturday by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, leader of the World War II bombing of Japan.

Of the original 80 raiders, 56 are still living. A record 44 planned to attend the reunion.

Is Burned Fatally

WATERVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Earl C. Barrett, 88, was burned fatally Thursday after he apparently fell while attempting to escape from a grass fire on his farm near this community southwest of Utica.

Coroner T. W. Piekielniak said Barrett died of third-degree burns. Barrett had been burning leaves shortly before the accident, sheriff's deputies said. A passerby extinguished the fire.

Viets Withdraw Where Guerrillas Scored Heavily

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP) — Government forces today pulled out of the Kien Long area of the deep south, where Communist guerrillas early this week dealt them the heaviest blow of the long conflict in South Viet Nam.

A U.S. spokesman said civil guards and special forces units were left to deal with the Viet Cong. Reports that the Communists again were assembling around Kien Long had touched off a near panic in the city Thursday.

Four government battalions had been trying to flush the guerrillas from the region north of the city since Sunday, when Viet Cong guerrillas smashed into Kien Long, massacring leading government officials. Fighting raged for three more days, and it was then that government troops suffered 300 cassalties.

Authorities decided to call off the search operation in the area late Thursday.

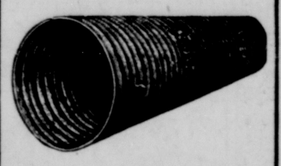

Nixon Advocates Change of Rules In Viet Fighting

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon says morale cannot be strong in South Viet Nam when the Communist guerrillas are allowed to retreat without harassment into the "sanctuary" of North Viet Nam or Laos.

"What is needed now is strong American support and a change in the rules," the former vice president said in a speech to the New York Chamber of Commerce Thursday.

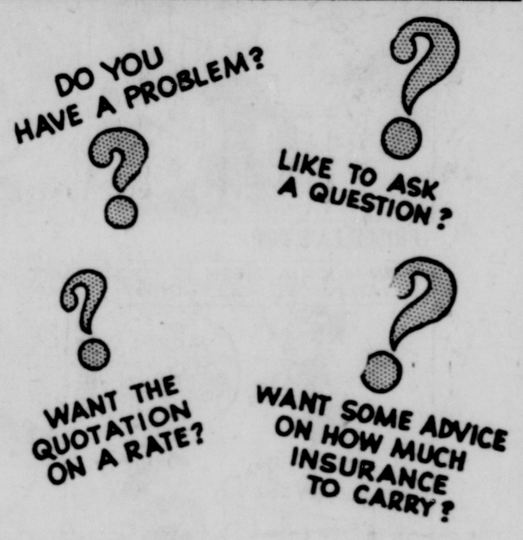

Nixon, who returned home this week from a tour of the Far East, called for a "stronger, firmer, more consistent policy" of the United States in facing up to the Communist threat in the Far East.

Cold Air Digs Into Montana

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cold air from Canada, fanned by brisk northerly winds, spread into sections of the northern Plains today, ending a brief spell of unseasonable warm weather in some areas.

Light snow fell in parts of Montana and northern Wyoming and light rain splashed areas in North Dakota. Rain also dampened areas in Texas, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Washington. Mostly dry weather was reported in other parts of the nation.

The coldest weather, with temperatures in the teens, was reported in southwest Montana. Readings dropped to the 30s in parts of the Dakotas after hitting record high marks for April 16 in some cities Thursday. The mercury climbed to 92 in Sioux Falls and Huron, S.D., and 81 in Fargo, N.D.

Many other cities in the Midwest Thursday reported record high temperatures for April 16, including 94 in Grand Island, Neb., and 87 in La Crosse Wis., and Waterloo, Iowa. Chicago's 84 tied the record high for the date.

Stall-in Still On Wednesday, Wagner Critical

NEW YORK (AP)—A militant civil rights group has refused to call off its plan to tie up traffic near the World's Fair on Wednesday, despite criticism from Mayor Robert F. Wagner and national Negro leaders.

Isiah Brunson, chairman of the Brooklyn chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), emerged from a three-hour meeting with the City Commission on Human Rights Thursday night and said:

"The World's Fair stall-in is still on as of this moment."

The Brooklyn CORE chapter has been suspended by the national organization, which rejected the stall-in plan.

The plan calls for demonstrators in cars to have the vehicles run out of fuel on the highways leading to the fair site.

In Washington, Negro leaders denounced the stall-in plan as a "revolutionary proposal" that might bring harm to thousands of persons.

Plaza Official Denies New Land

A report circulated to the effect that the Kingston Shopping Plaza had acquired additional land on Clinton Avenue, at the head of John Street, to widen its entrance from Clinton Avenue to the Westbrook Lane entrance, was denied by an official of the Kingston Shopping Plaza.

The former Roger Baer residence premises were acquired and demolished to give a direct entrance to the shopping plaza parking area from Clinton Avenue. A new street, Westbrook Lane, was constructed over the premises from Clinton Avenue giving direct entrance to the shopping plaza. There also are entrances from Fair Street Extension and from Washington Avenue near Hurley Avenue, where a new street was constructed over the former O. & W. Railroad right of way.

Miner's Body Recovered

BURKE, Idaho (AP) — Rescuers late Thursday night recovered the body of the second miner crushed to death in a cave-in Wednesday in Idaho's biggest zinc mine.

The body of Barney McCoy, 48, of Wallace, Idaho, had been located at midmorning Thursday, but debris in the deep shaft of the Star mine stalled recovery efforts.

The body of his companion, Reed Peck, 41, also from the Wallace area, was brought to the surface about five hours after the shaft caved in following an earth slippage in the tunnel area.

Hospital Power Cable Damaged, Quiz 2 Doctors

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Police discovered today that a cable supplying power to the operating room of a Brussels hospital had been damaged. They held two striking doctors for questioning.

The incident came to light as new intensive efforts were undertaken to end the 17-day-old walkout of Belgium's 12,000 doctors and dentists in protest against a new socialized medical law.

The office of the Brussels general prosecutor confirmed that the doctors were being investigated. No formal charges have been placed.

Premier Theo Lefevre met with the rectors of Brussels, Liege, Louvain and Ghent universities in an effort to complete a settlement formula. The universities, the only tour in Belgium, all have medical schools and occupy a distinctive place in Belgian life.

Later, the rectors contacted the leaders of the strike.

The government and the strikers indicated the walkout might be settled in the next 24 to 48 hours.

Reunion for Raiders

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—More than 40 Doolittle raiders, now gathering in Fort Worth for their 18th annual reunion, will be greeted Saturday by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, leader of the World War II bombing of Japan.

Of the original 80 raiders, 56 are still living. A record 44 planned to attend the reunion.

Is Burned Fatally

WATERVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Earl C. Barrett, 88, was burned fatally Thursday after he apparently fell while attempting to escape from a grass fire on his farm near this community southwest of Utica.

Coroner T. W. Piekielniak said Barrett died of third-degree burns. Barrett had been burning leaves shortly before the accident, sheriff's deputies said. A passerby extinguished the fire.

Viets Withdraw Where Guerrillas Scored Heavily

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP) — Government forces today pulled out of the Kien Long area of the deep south, where Communist guerrillas early this week dealt them the heaviest blow of the long conflict in South Viet Nam.

A U.S. spokesman said civil guards and special forces units were left to deal with the Viet Cong. Reports that the Communists again were assembling around Kien Long had touched off a near panic in the city Thursday.

Four government battalions had been trying to flush the guerrillas from the region north of the city since Sunday, when Viet Cong guerrillas smashed into Kien Long, massacring leading government officials. Fighting raged for three more days, and it was then that government troops suffered 300 cassalties.

Authorities decided to call off the search operation in the area late Thursday.

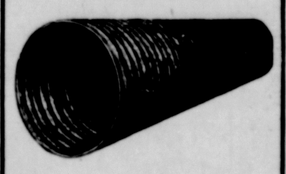

Nixon Advocates Change of Rules In Viet Fighting

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon says morale cannot be strong in South Viet Nam when the Communist guerrillas are allowed to retreat without harassment into the "sanctuary" of North Viet Nam or Laos.

"What is needed now is strong American support and a change in the rules," the former vice president said in a speech to the New York Chamber of Commerce Thursday.

Nixon, who returned home this week from a tour of the Far East, called for a "stronger, firmer, more consistent policy" of the United States in facing up to the Communist threat in the Far East.
